SEN. PEPPER URGES GROSS INCOME TAX

Favors Levy Starting at Three to Five Per Cent To Raise Funds.

6 BILLION YIELD SEEN

Members of Senate Committee Study Spending and Sales Assessment Plans.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Sen. Claude Pepper (D) Fla., today proposed a gross income tax of three to five per cent to raise an estimated "several billions of dollars," as the senate finance committee weighed other plans to boost the total of the $6,271,000,000 tax bill.

The Florida senator also urged adoption of the Ruml plan of pay-as-you-go taxation, so that income taxpayers would not be a year behind in meeting the high individual tax bills.

"I am in favor of a gross income tax," said Pepper. "There seems to be some uncertainty as to plans to be adopted by the finance committee. Such a tax should start at 3 to 5 per cent.

"This form of tax makes everyone pay according to income. I favor it instead of either a spending or sales tax."

Some tax experts have estimated that a three percent gross income tax would yield $6,000,000,000 to $9,000,000,000 a year, and thus the total of the house bill would be doubled.

The finance committee itself is in recess until Tuesday with members studying both the treasury's $6,500,000,000 spending tax plan and sales tax proposals designed to yield $2,500,000,000 to $4,000,000,000 annually.

With Sen. Guffey (D) Pa., member of the finance committee, predicting adoption of some form of sales tax, a proposal to combine the sales levy and the treasury's spending tax plan was reported in the making.

Treasury economists, testifying before the committee in secret session, warned members that unless billions of excess consumer buying power is tapped by taxation there is a strong danger of inflation.

"Thus far," said Sen. Brown (D) Mich., "we have done a little better than the Canadians in holding down prices. I suggested that we encourage payments of debts, including repayment of loans to the

Horseman on Lone Dawn Patrol Ends Up In Jail Cell

It was a "horse on the police department" this morning after Capt. Paul Whipp and Lieut. E. E. Hartnett arrested Edgar Beverage, U. S. Route 30, east of Mansfield, for cavorting on his nag on North Adams street as a pre-dawn patrol at 2:10 a. m.

Beverage, who has been heavily fined three times in municipal traffic court, resorted to his horse to come to town last night. According to police charges he stayed too long and indulged too freely, charges of intoxication and disorderly conduct being filed against him.

Court attaches at first were non-plussed as to what traffic code sections could be invoked. Beverage's carrying power was variously described as "fluid drive," "three speeds forward—walk, stumble and fall" and "operating an equine conveyance without physical control."

Capt. Paul (Revere) Whipp rode the animal to the police station where it was incarcerated in the court pending it's owner's trial.

Drastic Edict Limiting Wages, Salaries, Farm Prices Expected to Be Issued By President Roosevelt Monday

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—A drastic presidential order limiting all wages, salaries and farm prices was in store for the nation today in an unprecedented move, government officials revealed, to thwart a threatened runaway rise in the cost of living.

The responsible sources who cannot be quoted by name, said the decree, as drafted by President Roosevelt for issuance on Labor day, calls for creation of an economic administrator to carry out these policies and others designed to halt rising wartime living costs.

In effect, the presidential edict is scheduled to tighten the purse strings of every American to luxury or unnecessary spending but open them wide to payments of debts and more taxes, and to greater war bond purchases.

Even Mr. Roosevelt's advisers who aided in preparing the message regarded it as almost revolutionary because an act of congress virtually will be set aside by the farm price section of the order which affects a provision of the price control act specifically forbidding any price ceilings on farm products at less than 110 per cent of parity.

The president will say his wartime powers and duties are sufficient authority for the order. Already mentioned as possibilities for the post of economic administrator were Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York, Wendell Willkie and Bernard M. Baruch.

4 Sons Serve, She's Evicted —

With her four sons in the armed services, Mrs. Jennie Treanor's income shrunk so low she was unable to pay the rent on her Long Island, N. Y., apartment and she received an eviction notice. The hapless mother is seen with her two 14-year-old daughters holding a service flag representing her four sons now serving Uncle Sam. Her only hope to stave off the eviction is that the boys' pay and allowance ratings will be paid to her before Nov. 1st.

OPPOSITION BY MAYOR DEFEATS CITY BOND PLAN

Locke Lobbies Against Bill On Investment Board; He Once Voted For It.

Although a belligerent council last night blocked immediate passage of several administrative appropriation measures, Mayor William J. Locke successfully lobbied against an investment board proposal which, as a board member, he had voted for a month ago.

Prior to the meeting individual members conferred, on call, with the mayor in his office or were buttonholed in the corridor to hear his objections to an ordinance to amend legislation creating the investment board which would have permitted purchase of a $52,000 city bond issue which now must be placed on the open market Sept. 15. Councilman C. N. Shultz, member of the board, spoke in favor of the amending measure but his motion to pass it as an emergency matter under a suspension of the rules failed to win a second.

Roy W. Vaughn, member-at-large, declared the board's purchases should be confined to government issues as a patriotic gesture, in replying to Shultz' argument that interest charges could be saved to the benefit of the city's taxpayers, if the amendment were passed.

Earlier in the day Mayor Locke was quoted as saying such a move would place too much power in the hands of City Auditor Paul L. Kelley, Democrat, and members canvassed following the meeting said that argument was presented to them during the lobby hour preceding the session.

On Aug. 8 the investment board, composed of the mayor, Kelley, Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner, Treasurer Earl K. Troll and Shultz voted

Timoshenko's Armies Storm Into German Lines Along Volga as U. S. Tanks Take Part In Battles That Force Axis Retreats In Northern Egypt

BULLETIN

CAIRO—(UP)—British imperial forces won ground on the Alamein front in a sudden attack, threw back with heavy loss three German counter-attacks, and forced a third enemy withdrawal at the southern end of the line, a communique said today.

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—A Zurich dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company today quoted a German official spokesman and "informed neutral newspaper men in Berlin" as asserting that Stalingrad can be expected to fall within 48 hours.

(By Associated Press)

Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's armies, rallying in the hour of deepest crisis, stopped the Germans on the bloody plains before Stalingrad today and even stormed into Nazi lines northwest of the Volga steel city to capture booty and prisoners.

Further good news for the United Nations came from the Egyptian battlefront, where British G.H.Q. reported a new Axis retreat on the southern end of the 35-mile line and declared that British troops beat off three heavy counterattacks against newly-won positions on the center.

A communique said the Axis forces "again moved slightly westward" the third straight retreat—in the El Himeimat sector on the rim of the great Qattara salt basin.

On the center, the British command said, tank-led Axis infantry attempting to regain points captured by the British Thursday night ran into a withering barrage of artillery fire. British troops then charged the wavering Germans and Italians, the communique said, and drove them off.

Italian field headquarters gave a conflicting version of the battle, asserting that Axis armored forces had launched an attack on the southern sector and captured "several hundred prisoners, including the general of a New Zealand brigade."

The Fascist command also declared that Axis planes bombed concentrations of British armored vehicles "and set 40 on fire."

Cairo dispatches said the British, supported by U. S. tanks and planes, maintained "heavy pressure" on the enemy all day yesterday amid "considerable" fighting.

The German high command declared that several tank-supported British attacked on the southern sector "were frustrated."

While neither side claimed a decisive edge in the battle, dispatches indicated that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had failed at least in the initial phase of his new six-day offensive against the El Alamein front, 85 miles west of Alexandria.

Meager reports from the desert war theater, filtering through a rigid censorship, indicated that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel had taken a drubbing in the opening round of his new six-day offensive against the El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria.

"Rommel has lost the initia-

Train Hits Stalled Auto at Lucas, Engine Goes Off Track

Traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad was held up more than an hour last night when a double-header passenger train carrying several servicemen struck a stalled automobile at a Lucas crossing, its lead engine being partially derailed by the collision.

Railroad officials said the accident occurred when Ira J. Winters, a Monroe township farmer, stalled his car on the tracks after driving through barriers erected by Lucas village officials while repairs were being made to the crossing.

Winters reportedly abandoned his car after it stalled on the crossing just before the Pennsylvania's "Admiral," an east-bound passenger train arrived.

Engineers on both engines on the train said they saw the abandoned car and attempted to stop but that although they reduced the train's speed they were unable to halt it before reaching the crossing.

No one was injured in the accident but Winters' car was reduced to a heap of scrap metal and was dragged several hundred feet.

Only the front wheels of the first truck on the front engine were derailed and the rest of the train was transferred to the westbound track which was held clear until it reached another switch.

Traffic on the eastbound track was delayed, however, until the engine was placed back on the rails and a wrecking crew repaired slight damage to the tracks.

WPB Approves Sale of 50,000 Mechanical Refrigerators.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The war production board released today for sale to the general public about 50,000 domestic mechanical refrigerators, which had been frozen in the hands of dealers and distributors since February 14.

The WPB at the same time established a program for transfer of refrigerators held by manufacturers and their affiliated distributors to retail dealers and other outlets.

The order, WPB said, will facilitate acquisition of new refrigerators by consumers who certify they have no other refrigeration equipment at their disposal.

Refrigerators in the stocks of manufacturers and affiliated distributors may be released only upon WPB authorization.

Even Horses Will Appear In Mansfield Labor Day Parade

There'll even be horses in Mansfield's all-out patriotic parade observance of Labor day, Monday.

Announcement was made at last night's final roundup meeting of the general arrangements committee that the Teamsters union will exhibit a decorated van drawn by a four or six-horse hitch.

With virtually everything in readiness, committeemen were confident Monday's spectacle will be the greatest Labor day demonstration in the city's history and that it will be clothed in a 100 per cent war-time fervor with complete unity of all labor organizations the dominant note.

"Stay home—save tires and fuel and keep your holiday money here while you help your city demonstrate her all-the-way attitude in this war" has been the rallying cry of the general committee.

Parade assignments have been made to 65 marching units and floats, and the column will move at 10 a. m. Following the parade will be the speaking program in Central park, during the afternoon and evening athletic contests, a ball game, boxing bouts and other free entertainment will be presented at North Lake park, with the evening dancing featured by a one-hour floor show.

Prizes for all events this year will be paid in war bonds or stamps, instead of cash.

The NewsJournal will present a map of the parade route and complete list of participants in Sunday's edition.

TALLY: U.S. Army, Navy Smash 1,500 Jap Planes, 325 Warships

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—A partial explanation of recent American successes in the Solomons and elsewhere was found today in the results of a survey based on communiques and official statements which indicated that more than 1,500 Nipponese planes have been destroyed by U. S. Army and Navy forces in the Pacific conflict.

In addition, a minimum of 325 Japanese warships and auxiliary and supply vessels have been sunk or damaged by naval forces and army air corps units, obviously a severe blow to Nippon's sea striking power.

According to military and naval experts, these heavy casualties in planes, ships and trained personnel undoubtedly have forced the apparent slowing down of Japanese in their efforts to win and dominate all strategic areas in the Pacific.

Most significant is the fact that most of these enemy losses in planes and ships occurred as the United States was fighting a "defensive-offensive" war in the Pacific while gathering its military might and losing ground to numerically superior Japanese forces.

CANOPY: RAF, Soviet Planes In Budapest-Bremen Bomb Sweep

(By United Press)

LONDON—Russian planes, penetrating to the heart of central Europe, bombed Vienna and Budapest during the night and a force of British planes, hundreds strong, left many fires raging in Germany's port, submarine building center and war factory area of Bremen.

Aerial fighting raged on a grand scale, unprecedented in the war, over an 800-mile front from London, which had a brief resultless daylight air raid alarm today, to the capitals of Austria and Hungary.

It was Hungary's first raid of the war, and Axis reports made it clear that the Russian planes, operating some 1,000 miles from their bases, had bombed not only Budapest and Vienna, 135 miles apart, but north Hungarian towns in between.

The Russians also bombed Breslau, in southeastern Germany midway between Vienna and the Baltic, and heavily attacked Koenigsberg, capital of east Prussia, on the Baltic coast.

A day shift of Allied bomber and fighter planes opened daylight raiding today with one of their biggest sweeps in weeks over northern France, apparently bombing inland targets. Fighter command planes had been busy all night on offensive patrols over France.

London's half hour air raid alarm apparently was caused by the passing of a reconnaissance plane at great height.

There was furious gun fire from one London area but no bombs were dropped.

The air ministry, reporting 11

DOUBLE BALLOT LOOMING FOR 2 OHIO DISTRICTS

Neffner Rules Special Vote Necessary as Congressmen Leave to Join Navy.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — The 13th and 15th Ohio districts may choose two congressmen each instead of one at the Nov. 3 election.

George M. Neffner, election expert for the secretary of state, said special elections must be held in the two districts to fill the unexpired terms of congressmen who resigned to accept navy commissions.

They were Robert T. Secrest (D.) of Caldwell, 15th district, and A. D. Baumhart, jr., (R.) of Vermilion, 13th district. Both had been renominated without opposition.

Gov. John W. Bricker said that under Ohio law he probably would be required to call a special primary to select candidates for the unexpired term, but that he would set the special election which followed on the same date as the general election to save expense.

Voters in the two districts, therefore, would be forced to select not only a congressman for the regular term beginning Jan. 1, but also a representative for the unexpired term ending on that date. The same man could be a candidate for both terms.

Neffner asserted that the special primary must be held before Oct. 19 and that candidates would be required to file nominating petitions.

He explained that a special primary would not be necessary if each party presented only one candidate.

Charles W. Lynch, a Woodsfield attorney, was selected by the 15th district Democratic committee Friday to replace Secrest on the ballot for the regular term. He will oppose P. W. Griffiths of Marietta, the Republican nominee.

The 13th district Republican committee is expected to meet next week to choose a candidate to succeed Baumhart.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Marie R. Sweeney of Cleveland, wife of Congressman Martin L. Sweeney (D), who was defeated for renomination in the August primary, announced she would be an independent candidate in the 20th district congressional race.

Senator David L. Liggett, of Bell Center, state commander of the United Spanish War Veterans, will be the principal speaker. Police Chief Thomas M. Bell, will deliver the address of welcome to comrades and friends, with a response by Comrade Guy Hiltabiddle. Sunday evening. Community singing at the campfire ceremony will be led by Comrade James Brownscombe of the Mansfield V. F. W. post.

Monday's sessions will be featured by election of officers and selection of the 1943 reunion city. Dinner will be served at the First Methodist church at 12:30 p. m.

Local committee on arrangements consists of Chief Bell, Thomas D. Brown, Richard Ricketts and Charles Hughes.

This year's reunion recently was transferred to Mansfield from Akron after hotel managers there informed the Akron reunion committee that they could not accomodate such a crowd due to the demands made on rooming facilities by war workers.

General Charles Dick of Canton is honorary president of the regimental reunion association and Mrs. Dick is "mother of the regiment."

DESPITE PROTESTS, JAPS WIN RIGHT TO ENTER U. S. COLLEGE

(By Associated Press)

PARKVILLE, Mo—The battle of Park college is ended — and seven American-born Japanese will enroll as students this fall over the protests of the mayor, the councilmen, and many of the 675 townspeople.

Scores of other colleges in the middlewest and east are accepting some of the 1,900 American-born Japanese students who were evacuated from the west coast when the war began, the war relocation board in Washington said.

But acceptance in Parkville, at least, proved a bit slow.

Loyalty of the Japanese students has been guaranteed by the federal agencies which sponsored their move here from California, Dr. William Lindsay Young, college president, declared.

But his declaration didn't help much when he announced the plan several weeks ago. The tempest was immediate, and in the midst of it the first of the Japanese youths arrived—spending most of their time—quietly indoors and off the echoing streets of the town.

Mayor Herbert A. Dyer said then that the city would take every legal step to remove them. "If the FBI is so sure these Japs are loyal citizens, why doesn't it let them remain on the west coast?" he inquired.

The mayor forecast college trustees would bar students, and one member of the board commented:

"Park college has sent 45 of its students to war. Why should it take Japs to take some of their places? It doesn't make sense. I don't believe in being that soft."

Yesterday, though, 15 of the 23 trustees met and decided to admit the seven Japanese—five boys and two girls—for the coming scholastic term.

Dr. Young said their enrollment was arranged in co-operation with the FBI, the army, the navy, and U. S. department of education and the war allocation board.

TAKEN BY DEATH

Col. Lloyd W. Howard, 73, Native of Bellville Succumbs.

Col. Lloyd W. Howard, 73, native of Bellville, who became a leader in Toledo's civic and business life, died yesterday at his home in Toledo after a lingering illness.

Col. Howard, an officer in the Spanish-American war, was born in 1869 in Bellville, moving to Toledo when he was 20.

He served as Lucas county treasurer from 1918 to 1930 and was Toledo service director in 1914. He operated a printing business in Toledo for more than 40 years.

He is survived by the widow, Mrs. Lilla C. Howard; a daughter, Helen Howard, and a sister, Mrs. Olive M. Lippert, all of Toledo. Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 10 a. m. at the Parks Emmert funeral home in Toledo.

SECCAIUM PARK REMAINS OPEN

Operates For Balance of Month; Labor Day Program Set.

Seccaium park will remain open for the balance of September instead of closing Labor day as has been the custom.

The week-end Labor day celebration will include dancing Sunday and free dancing both Monday afternoon and evening. An elaborate fireworks display is scheduled Monday night.

The Moose orchestra that has added an electric organ to its instrumentation will be in the orchestra shell Sunday, Monday and Tuesday nights.

LONG ILLNESS ENDS FATALLY

PLYMOUTH—Harley L. West, 28, died yesterday at the Oak Ridge sanitarium at Green Springs after a long illness. He had been a patient at the sanitarium for about four months.

Mr. West was born in North Fairfield on Oct. 13, 1913 and spent the greater part of his life in Plymouth. Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Jennie West and brother, Pearl, both of Plymouth, and a sister, Miss Nettie West of Cleveland.

Funeral services will be conducted Sunday at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. H. L. Bethel of the Presbyterian church officiating. Burial will be in Greelawn cemetery.

Girl Lies About Age, Gets Lecture But No License

A 15-year-old Richland county girl and her mother who misrepresented the girl's age when she and an 18-year-old youth applied for a marriage license today in probate court were lectured by Judge Stuart H. Cramer who warned that any future cases of misrepresentation will be prosecuted.

After the girl and her mother admitted that the daughter would not be 16 until next month, Judge Cramer told them that if he heard of a license being issued to the couple elsewhere in Ohio before the girl's 16th birthday, he would bring charges against both mother and daughter.

The girl told the court in applying for a license that she would be 17 soon, and her mother supported her statement, Judge Cramer said.

He thought the girl appeared younger and checked the county birth records which proved she was 15.

"Under the law, the court can hold the girl or boy for delinquency in cases like this and the parent for contributing to the delinquency of the child," Judge Cramer said.

"It may not be possible for us to prove the age of every applicant for a license, but we are not going to issue licenses for child marriages in this county if we can help it," he added.

Laff-a-Day

"All I'd have to do to make mother mad is to call her 'mother'."

A "mystery" that has been puzzling the sheriff's staff for nearly two weeks had been solved today by Attorney A. S. Beach of Mansfield. Several days ago the sheriff's office received a call from a woman who lives near Butler who reported excitedly that some one had fired three shots at her 13-year-old son while he was fishing. She said the alleged attack was unprovoked and she was sure the shots were fired by a "Jap or a Nazi." Sheriff's deputies remembered that Beach owns a cottage near Butler and he frequently shoots groundhogs or just shoots for the fun of it. Told of the alleged attack, the attorney said he remembered firing five, not three, shots near the scene of the "attack" and he remembered seeing the boy, but that he was shooting into the creek and not at the youth.

John G. Routzon, secretary-manager of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce, yesterday recovered a tie clasp which he lost a year ago while playing a round of golf at a Findlay course. Routzon had long ago forgotten about the loss but yesterday Grattan Johnston, manager of the Ohio theater, tapped him on the shoulder and handed over the missing clasp. The mystery was cleared up when Johnston explained that the clasp was found by a player following Routzon's party. Johnston's father is the owner of the Findlay course and traced the name of the owner by comparing the initials on the clasp with the registration book.

Pupils who ride to Richland county rural schools in buses won't have to go to school in the dark this winter if school officials succeed in working out the schedule they have in mind. Superintendents in the rural districts plan to start classes fairly early during the fall months, then open at a later date when the days become shorter. It's possible that no rural school will open before 9 a. m. after November and that most of them will open at different times. County Superintendent Boyd Robinson has asked superintendents to submit their proposed opening hours to him so schedules can be prepared.

Mansfield persons corresponding with prisoners of war and other interned or detained civilians in war zones will, beginning Sept. 7, address their communications to New York, N. Y., for censorship instead of Chicago. A new postal ruling to that effect has been received by Postmaster Herman E. Homberger who said that no postage is needed for mail of this kind. "Quite a bit of mail has been going to the Philippines lately," the postmaster said.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Minnie Strouse, 65, Dies At Home of Daughter.

Mrs. Minnie Likins Strouse, 65, died this morning after a short illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John F. Wise, 110 South Glen avenue.

Resident of Mansfield for 10 years, Mrs. Strouse was born near Caledonia, July 25, 1877.

Two daughters, Mrs. John F. Wise of Mansfield, and Mrs. John Cotsamire of Bucyrus, survive, with four grandchildren and one great grandchild. Four brothers and one sister survive. They are Charles, Edgar, Vernal and Vinol Likine of Caledonia, and Mrs. Paul Whiteamire of Kirkpatrick.

Funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the First Christian church at Kirkpatrick, with the Rev. R. S. Strickler officiating. Burial will be at Oakwood cemetery in Bucyrus. Friends may call at the Geiger funeral home until Tuesday.

THREE FACING TRAFFIC COUNTS

Three traffic arrests by city and state highway patrolmen last night included one charge of drunken driving.

Walter E. Shrader, Mansfield, R. D. 4, was taken into custody by highway patrolmen on the charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol after he was apprehended on U. S. Route 42.

Charles Boettcher, Cleveland, posted bond of $16.30 and waived municipal court hearing after he was charged by state patrolmen with speeding 65 miles an hour on U. S. Route 42.

Edwin F. McMahon, Mansfield, R. D. 6, will appear in traffic court Sept. 10 to answer the charge of violating the yellow traffic lane stripe on Park avenue west following his arrest late yesterday by Motorcycle Patrolman Earl Korn.

SPEAKS SUNDAY

Rev. William T. McArthur, 81, who founded the Christian and Missionary Alliance movement 60 years ago, will be guest speaker at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Sunday in Grace Gospel church, the pastor, Rev. William Paul Darling announced today.

WPB PLANNING CONTROL OF INVENTORIES

Program to Prevent Dealers From Stocking Up on Civilian Supplies.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The War Production Board moved today to crack down on merchants' hoarding of civilian supplies in order to assure an equitable nation-wide distribution of necessities.

The WPB approved yesterday a program under which inventories in the hands of retailers and wholesalers will be controlled.

The plan, expected to become effective early in 1943, resulted from problems created by heavy buying on the part of some dealers, threatening to create sectional shortages.

Donald M. Nelson, WPB chairman, said the plan would contribute to an equitable distribution of inventories and could be accomplished "without unnecessary hardships or difficulties" for the retail and wholesale trade.

But the plan means that those affected will not be able to stock up beyond normal inventories.

A special committee drafted the program after conferring with hundreds of merchants and manufacturers. The latter also may be limited in their inventories.

A forthcoming WPB order will require reports from each dealer of his stock on hand and his sales by quarters of the year, accompanied by a statement of the normal inventory.

Manufacturers and merchants whose businesses for the year ending Sept. 30, 1942, grossed less than $100,000 or whose inventories were less than $25,000 cost value would not be affected. The order would not cover merchants primarily engaged in the food business, or eating and drinking establishments, second-hand stores, florists' and antique shops, dry cleaners, shoe repair shops, steel and other metal warehouses, auto and parts dealers, farm implement and fuel dealers.

Senator Amazed At Production of Weapons by U. S.

WASHINGTON—(INS)— Senator Carl A. Hatch (D., N. M.), member of a senate subcommittee that inspected west coast defenses, and war plants, said today that production is increasing so rapidly that "the country hasn't seen anything yet."

"When every available source of raw material is tapped and the full power of the country developed, we will have an output of weapons, munitions and machines such as has never been seen before," Hatch declared.

He said that the committee visited the Boeing and Douglas aircraft plants and Henry J. Kaiser's west coast shipyards, and was "amazed at the work they are doing."

"At the Kaiser shipyards in San Francisco, ships are being turned out so fast it is unbelievable. The man has done an astonishing job. We talked to the workers and they bluntly told us they had a job to do and meant to get it done without any fooling around," Hatch said.

BURN MORTGAGE TOMORROW AT U. B. CHURCH

Appropriate Service to Mark Paying Off of 32-Year-Old Indebtedness.

Burning of a 32-year-old mortgage will feature the Sunday morning services of First United Brethren church, 83 Park avenue east, with an appropriate program marking the final clearance of the church's indebtedness.

Coincident to the mortgage ceremony, the 9:30 a. m. service will be an observance of the seventh anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. James L. Boyer who entered the pulpit duties here Sept. 13, 1935. The pastor's annual report to the congregation will be made at this service.

Charles W. McBride, president of the board of trustees, will report on the final payment of the debt, with reminiscences by William T. Hursh, charter member of the church and now a class leader. These men, with the pastor, form the committee in charge of the celebration.

The church was begun 36 years ago with 36 charter members meeting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crider. Assembly rooms were rented in the Fairview hotel basement and occupied for eight months. The old Waring home then was leased and became the site of the present edifice, the cornerstone of which was laid Aug. 14, 1910. The building was dedicated Feb. 11, 1912. It was undertaken when the membership was 180 and cost $32,000. Later a parsonage added to the congregation's financial obligation.

Today the membership is 443. Average attendance at Sunday school during the last conference year was 238, and morning worship 174, with evening worship averaging 77. During the year $3,245 was raised to apply on the church debt, benevolent giving amounted to $3,077 and the total for all purposes $11,744.

Sermon To Be On Labor Day Theme

"The Laborer and Walking In the Spirit" will be the special Labor Day sermon by Rev. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church, at the 9:45 morning worship Sunday. Music will be offered by the choir quartet singing, "The Lord Is Exalted" by West and Clora Balliet Elder singing, "When I Consider the Heavens" by Scott.

Rev. Swoyer will use as his sermon topic, "How Long Shall We Weep for the Dead?" as the 8 p. m. vesper service. Besides the choir quartet singing, "O God, Thou Art My God" by Scott, Wilbur C. Hegenaur will sing "Behold, There Shall Be a Day" by Wooller, for the offertory solo.

The Brotherhood is planning a rally to be held Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, at the South park pavilion beginning at 3 p. m. On Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. the Sunday school board will meet to make final plans for the Sunday school teachers' rally at the Lutheran youth camp and the fall program for the Sunday school.

'Christianity and Labor,' Sermon Topic

Rev. Glenn F. Lewis, rector of the Grace Episcopal church, will celebrate Holy Communion and preach at the 10:45 service Sunday morning. The topic of his sermon will be "Christianity and Labor."

Organ music to be furnished by Miss Louise Krause will be "Communion" by Lemmens and Bach's "Prelude and Fugue in E Minor." "Brother James' Air" by Marosa will be the offertory duet. Richard Wright, baritone soloist, will sing the Gounod musical setting of the Holy Communion, including the Sanctus and Agnus Dei. Holy Communion will be celebrated in the chapel at 8 a. m.

Thursday St. Margaret's guild will hold its first fall meeting in the undercroft, beginning with a luncheon at 12:30 p. m. Mrs. Robert Black will be chairman and Mrs. Robert W. Jones will preside at the business meeting after which members will sew for the Red Cross.

At 7:30 St. Agnes' guild will meet in the undercroft. Choir rehearsals will be Thursday at 4:15 and Saturday at 7 p. m.

Lincoln Heights Program Announced

Sunday morning services at the Church of the Brethren in Lincoln Heights will open at 10:30 a. m.

Rev. Roland L. Showalter will speak upon "Investing In Abiding Values," which was the conference theme of the 79th annual district conference that he attended in Canton. The sermon will be a summary of the conference addresses and spirit.

Intermediate boys of the church will meet at the church Sunday at 2 p. m. to leave for an overnight hike. Vincent Kennedy and the pastor will be the leaders. The group will return Monday evening.

Wednesday the Women's work organization of the church will meet all day at the church. Thursday the community Red Cross Sewing circle will meet in the church.

Pastor Preaches on 'Levels of Living'

Rev. Edward G. Corwin will have as his sermon subject, "Levels of Living" at the morning worship service for the First Methodist church. Mrs. W. J. Hazeltine appears as the new choir director and will direct the choir in singing, "God to Whom We Look up Blindly," by Chadwick. Mendelssohn's "It Is Enough" will be Robert Early's solo.

For the nursery school at 10:30, Mrs. Denny Skelton will be in charge of the little children during the church service. Epworth league is at 6:30 p. m. Sunday and Youth Bible study members meet at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday. Choir rehearsal is at 7:30 p. m. Thursday.

He came to the city from Caldwell, O., but he has held pastorates in leading Free Methodist churches in the state, including Youngstown, Dayton and Cambridge. Before his assignment to the Mansfield pastorate he conducted three revival sessions at the Mansfield church.

FDR TO ISSUE SALARY EDICT

Drastic Ruling to Affect Wages, Farm Prices Expected Monday.

General provisions of the decree as outlined by authoritative informants is expected to prohibit wage increases above the Jan. 1, 1941, level by more than 15 per cent, the approximate rise in living costs since that date. Workers paid by the hour, however, will not be prevented from receiving more for extra hours employed, and it was indicated that those who had received more than a 15 per cent increase since Jan. 1, 1941, will be permitted to continue on the basis of the increased pay.

While wages will constitute the amount paid by an hourly rate or other compensation up to $75 weekly, salaries will include amounts ranging from that figure to $7,500 a year. It is still to be decided whether salaries will be frozen or permitted to be raised on the cost-of-living formula, but on salaries above $7,500 a year increases will be forbidden.

Farm prices will be frozen also although revision may be made later on the charges for some products with some of the revisions to be downward, it was said.

Government officials said income tax laws will be used particularly to enforce wage provisions of the order. Refusal to allow employers "business expense" deductions for unauthorized wage increases would bring increased taxes on employers. As a matter of normal economy, most employers were expected to abide voluntarily by the decree.

While the order is not expected to affect directly other cost-of-living angles, it is anticipated Mr. Roosevelt's message to congress and his radio address to the public will stress necessity of more taxes, more war bond purchases, more rationing, prompt payment of debts, and avoidance of hoarding.

As for an executive dismissal of legislation bolstering farm prices, it was expected that Mr. Roosevelt would count on forestalling farm bloc protests by answering some of the objections in advance in a message to congress preceding a radio address to the people.

THEATERS

Suspense Drama.

An old brownstone mansion, the subject of suspicion and rumor, furnishes the locale for the "The Gay Sisters," opening at the Ohio today. Co-starring Barbara Stanwyck and George Brent the plot deals with three attractive sisters who find themselves in the midst of litigation when a civil engineer seeks their property to build up a vast estate of his own. Miss Stanwyck, Geraldine Fitzgerald and Nancy Coleman play the sisters and Brent has the part of the attorney.

Across the Pacific.

Mary Astor and Sydney Greenstreet play Japanese agents in Humphrey Bogart's starring attraction, "Across the Pacific," at the Madison. The two meet up with Bogart, a discharged U. S. army captain, aboard ship for Yokohama and prevail upon him to release certain information concerning military installations guarding the Panama Canal. Bogart gets on their trail and then finds himself in love with the girl. Monte Blue and Roland Drew are in the cast. "Calling Dr. Gillespie," with Lionel Barrymore and Dona Reed is the second attraction.

Musical Comedy.

"Ship Ahoy," the Eleanor Powell-Red Skelton musical at the Ritz, has its action aboard a showboat. Miss Powell plays a G-girl in the film and Skelton has the part of her hypochondriac sweetheart. Both become involved with foreign agents and in one instance the dancing Miss Powell finds it profitable to tap out a Morse code with her educated feet. Her other dance impressions includes a Spanish bull fight. Bert Lahr and Virginia O'Brien are in the cast. "Henry and Dizzy," the second feature, is another episode in the life of Henry Aldrich.

Manhunt Thriller.

A democratic peoples' fighting reaction to the terrorism of a small band of Nazis, who attempt to escape into the United States, is vividly pictured in "The Invaders," at the Park. Laurence Olivier, Leslie Howard and Raymond Massey head the cast and the players include Eric Portman as the ringleader of the Nazi band. Stranded in the Hudson Bay country when their submarine is sunk the Nazis cut their way through the wilds, killing and plundering until they meet up with people who call their bluff. "Sweetheart of the Fleet," with Joan Davis is the co-feature.

Mansfield News-Journal

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

MANSFIELD, OHIO, SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 5, 1942.

Drive carefully tomorrow and Monday—holidays present more than ordinary traffic dangers.

What may later seem to be an eclipse of the sun will probably be no more than an air freighter passing overhead.

Unheard remark: "I've been accustomed to getting $50,000 a year salary but I think $25,000 is enough for anybody, so I'm asking for a decrease."

War Stamp Bouquets for Labor Day

THE APPEAL of novelty will be strongly introduced into the sale of War Savings Stamps and Bonds in Mansfield this month, with continued emphasis, however, on the urgent need of everybody investing at least 10 per cent of income in this form of security.

None argues AGAINST purchase of War Savings Bonds—everybody is FOR it—yet sales have not been up to the mark that has been set for this part of war financing. Two reasons for this have been advanced. One is procrastination; the other is refusal to accept bond purchasing as a personal responsibility.

An appealing stamp-selling feature for Labor day will be the colorful bouquets of 10-cent stamps, which will be sold by Mansfield girls on the streets, through the parade crowds, at the theaters and at North lake park during the afternoon and evening programs.

No civilian task in which all can share is of greater importance than regular, liberal purchase of War Savings Bonds—and each dime, quarter or dollar stamp does its part in making up the amount required to buy a bond.

Help Conserve Doctors' Time

WAR'S DRAIN on the nation's doctors continues to grow rapidly. In time, it is likely that all physically fit younger doctors, and many older ones, will be called to military service. And so, the burden of work on the doctors who remain at home will be doubled and redoubled.

Many authorities are now advising the public as to how it may help these doctors perform their job with a maximum efficiency under difficult conditions. First, don't ask your doctor to make a house call if you are able to go to his office. Second, don't call him at inconvenient times unless there is an emergency. Third, when you do see him, don't waste his time in gossip and idle talk.

The standards of American medical care are the highest in the world. During the war, with millions of people working at arduous labor, every possible means of guarding and maintaining these standards must be used. And you can be certain that the doctors will do their part. They will willingly work longer and harder. They won't spare themselves. They know better than anyone else that the preservation of civilian health is absolutely vital to the war effort.

Mistake That Can Be Avoided

SOME IDEAS do not have to be tried to prove that they will not work. One such is an attempt, occasionally suggested, to have congress oversee management of the war. This has been tried before and failed. During the first World war there was an effort along this line but fortunately it did not get far and President Wilson remained commander-in-chief.

But the greatest failure of this notion was in the Civil war. The Committee on the Conduct of the War, established by congress in December, 1861, was one of the sharpest thorns in Lincoln's flesh. T. Harry Williams, a Wisconsin historian whose newly published "Lincoln and the Radicals" studies this committee thoroughly, says:

> "It became the spearhead of the radical drive against the administration. It investigated the principal military campaigns, worked to undermine democratic and conservative officers, interfered boldly with the plans of commanders, and bullied Lincoln into accepting the radical program. Not a single member possessed either military experience or military education, but the committee did not consider that this defect need deter it from investigating army operations or rendering judgments on the abilities of military men."

The work of the committee was as bad as its qualifications. It encouraged army officers to conspire against their superiors, stirred up private soldiers to complain against their officers, and insisted that commanders be appointed because they belonged to the committee's particular political faction. Incompetent leaders like Pope and Hooker were forced on the country, causing bloody defeats and prolonging the war.

The old advice still holds good: "Shoemaker, stick to your last." Congress has an important place in the governmental scheme, but it should keep its hands off the armed forces.

Act Quickly When Fire Starts

AN AUTHORITY on fire-fighting recently said that practically all fires could be extinguished with a glass of water at the beginning. The great, destructive fires, in other words, are caused largely by delay in discovering and fighting them.

In these days, when maximum conservation of materials and labor is vital, fire control is the duty of everyone—housewife, executive, foreman and worker. And fire control has two distinct phases. The first phase is fire prevention. That simply means that every home and every place of business must be periodically inspected, and all fire hazards, no matter how minor they may seem, promptly eliminated.

The second phase is fire fighting. And it isn't enough to depend on your local fire department, no matter how good it is. A fire which could be immediately put out in its first stage, may turn a home or a factory into a raging inferno in a matter of minutes. A little equipment, plus a little knowledge, makes it possible for anyone to extinguish the average fire safely and swiftly.

It is well to have a chemical extinguisher of an approved type on hand. In addition, have a supply of sand and a hose where you can reach them instantly. Sand is a first-class extinguisher, and should be used wherever it is too difficult to reach a fire with water.

Right will eventually triumph over might—but meanwhile a law abiding citizen is at a disadvantage when attacked by three or more highwaymen.

Now that a new 200-inch telescope is bringing the moon to within 25 miles of the earth, that "green cheese" myth may be finally exploded.

Some optimists go so far, in their dreams of a post-war perfect world, as to believe there will be no poor relations.

CIVILIZATION REACHES THE SOLOMONS

Almonds From Iran Raise Issue

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — The war situation has become so serious that one does not hear so much worrying about "after the war" as was the case of a few months ago, when the most sweeping dislocation of normal business and industrial activity this country has ever experienced began. But while the worrying may not be so general, nor so annoying to those who fear such worrying might interfere with the war effort, it is still there in spots, and some of them might bear a bit of thinking—IF the thinking is done by persons not needed for the emergency.

The latest group to bring its protest to Washington is the California Almond Growers Exchange. The almond growers out on the Coast are worrying about what was bothering a lot of people BEFORE the emergency, but which has become a mere speck on the horizon in the last nine months, the reciprocal trade agreements.

"I wish to call attention to the fact," says D. R. Bailey, general manager of the exchange, "our state department is about to use the reciprocal trade agreement power given it, in an unguarded moment, by congress, to make concessions abroad which will prostrate American agricultural industry.

"Mr. Hull has given notice of his intention of negotiating a trade treaty with Iran (Persia) in which the tariff on almonds would be reduced by a possible 50 per cent. A hearing is scheduled for September 9, in Washington.

AT THIS point it might be injected that those words "in an unguarded moment" are rather amusing to anyone who was watching congress when this reciprocal trade agreement power was given the administration. It may have been an "unguarded moment," but there was certainly plenty of fighting about it. There was no charge that opponents of this power had been asleep at the switch. There was no good argument against granting this power which was overlooked or was not made again and again, so far as could be ascertained at the time. In fact if ANY argument against this power has developed SINCE that legislation was passed it has not been prominently mentioned up to and including the hour this protest about almonds was lodged.

It is just another case, in fact, of folks on one side of a street not believing that the fire on the other side of the street would ever reach them. What makes this all the more intriguing, in the present case, is that California did not help very much, through her big delegation in the house and her two senators, in fighting this grant of power.

CALIFORNIA gradually became one of the most notable tariff grabbers in the twenties. It was California demands for high protection for her products, and log-rolling by the California members of congress to get this protection which was one of the big contributing factors to the rearing of that much attacked Smoot-Hawley tariff bill in the Herbert Hoover administrator—one that is actually blamed by some for the world economic conditions which produced first the 1929 crash and then the war.

It will be recalled, that there has not been a general revision of the tariff since Franklin Roosevelt came into power. It has been done piecemeal, by the state department, in the form of these reciprocal trade agreements. Mr. Bailey concludes, a few years too late: "There is a principle involved in this situation which merits the attention of all American interests supporting and dependent upon a protective tariff policy."

Man or Frog?

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I'M REFERRING again to that grand book for us plain folk, "Doctors of the Mind," by Marie Beynon Ray (Little Brown & Co. pub.) Great book, the lowdown on you and how you tick.

Yes, I'm going to talk about evolution. But you needn't shy away in case you're a fundamentalist. For the modern scientist doesn't tell you you're descended from an ape—nor did Darwin, as a matter of fact. And Marie Ray's history of psychiatry doesn't bar man from the Garden of Eden. It merely makes God loom taller and taller with each revealing word. It tells only that thing which science has proved and the Gospel put into poetry—how life began.

What lay behind the first living movement on the earth? I don't know. Nobody knows. The Biblical explanation is good enough for me: And the earth was without form and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep.

But in that darkness something presently moved. A bit of slime. But creative slime. For in that slime there were the makings of the human race. There were cells. Rudimentary cells at first. Then, within the same body, different cells with different jobs. And the thing evolved which man later called a sponge. Then after that slowly expanding forms of life. The sponge, then the sea anemone with the first nerve cells, then the jellyfish with its central nervous system, then the worm from which we got our head.

And so on and on, until swamp and earth swarmed with things that groveled and flapped, hopped and flew. Until at last came the frog, the frog with brains, with a skull and a spine and five senses—the greatest achievement of Creation up to that time.

Magnificent! Why didn't Creation stop right there? Because although the frog had a hitherto unparalleled equipment there was still something wrong with it. Says Marie Ray of that far-distant frog, as well as the one that croaks in your own back yard, "There is this wrong with him: that, although he possesses many of the same organs as man and many of the same brain mechanisms, although he can do a lot of things no animal before him could do, yet his actions are decidedly limited. Instead of being varied and deliberate, they are limited and instantaneous reactions—reflexes. To the same situation a frog almost always makes the same response.

"THE TROUBLE WITH THE FROG IS THAT HE'S NOT EQUIPPED TO CHANGE HIS MIND! THE TROUBLE WITH THE FROG IS THAT HE HAS A ONE-TRACK MIND."

Remember the old question. "Are you a man or a mouse?" It would be much more pertinent to ask, Are you a man or a frog? CAN YOU OR CAN'T YOU CHANGE YOUR MIND? DO OR DON'T YOU REACT TO LIFE AS YOU DID WHEN YOU WERE SEVEN OR SEVENTEEN? OR HAVE YOU A NEW VISION. . . . A NEW POWER OF DECISION?

You'll probably protest that you can't possibly feel toward life as you did at seven or seventeen, since everything is changed and there's a war today instead of peace.

That isn't the point. Outside things change for a frog too. He moves from puddle to puddle. Sometimes a dog barks at him. Sometimes a stick pokes. But these are all outward changes that have nothing to do with frog nature. The main thing and the tragic thing about a frog is that he doesn't change inside. He is a victim of circumstances, never the master of his fate.

And if you'll think it over and look about you, you'll find many a human being who is in the same fix and prefers to be! Many of us don't want to change our minds and attitudes. Changes occur outside us, changes beyond our mastery. But in ourselves we fight violently against change.

We want to feel and think as we did when we first started on a long trail. "What's good enough for father is good enough for me!" that's our slogan. And no matter how variable our environment, we react with the same jerks and jitters. And therein lies our human tragedy.

For we aren't made to stay the same, to feel the same. No matter what it costs we were meant to go on, to be different, to grow out of our narrow puddles . . . up toward the stars.

Timely Editorial

British Determination.

The most impressive evidence of the determination of the British people to win the war, regardless of its magnitude or duration, is to be found in the utilization of British manpower. There are in England more than 22 million physically capable men and more than 24 million physically capable women. An amazingly high percentage are today engaged in some phase of the work that is being done to bring victory.

Men of 60, 70, and even 80 years of age are working on the docks, wheeling trucks. A lathe operator in Birmingham stuck to his machine until he died a few weeks ago. He was 85. We read of one large household that needs and has two servants. One is a 15-year-old girl; the other is a 96-year-old man. Hardly a woman under 43 is spared from some phase of the British government's desperate task.—Toledo Blade.

As Others See It

Costly Lesson.

This country had more than enough of everything before war broke loose, and now it hasn't enough of anything. This condition should teach us never again to destroy surpluses and boast of our resources.—Toledo Blade.

Effects of Worry.

It appears that worry may cause dental decay, along with ulcers, gray hair and nervous breakdowns. As our Great Leader might have said, all we have to worry about is worry.—Detroit News.

Gain In Battle Against U-Boats, War News Mixes Good With Bad

—By ASSOCIATED PRESS

SOMEWHERE in the Caribbean a United States merchantman shuddered as a torpedo ripped into its engine room, killed two seamen.

The marauding U-boat came up then to look its victim over, probably to finish off the still-floating vessel with shells from deck guns.

But from the merchantman a navy gun crew turned loose on the raider as it surfaced, sent a shell whistling past its conning tower. The sub crash-dived, hightailed away. Half-a-day later the crippled ship was on its way to a Caribbean port on a tow-line behind a Canadian naval vessel.

Two months ago a merchantman in the same circumstances probably would have ended up on the bottom of the sea. At least 110 others did.

There weren't so many trained gun crews aboard the merchantmen then. U. S., British, and Canadian patrol vessels weren't so thick in coastal waters.

Jerry was having himself an underwater field day in June. Navy assertions that the submarine situation was being met had a hollow sound. But in July the sinkings dropped to 45. And as August came to a close, sinkings reported for the month totaled only 23.

From the U. S. Maritime Commission came some more encouraging news: that American shipyards in August completed 71 cargo ships and tankers, the third consecutive record for steel ship construction.

Another record in August might mean that ship construction exceeded sinking 3 to 1.

At Home

Plenty of Proteins.

The meat situation was becoming something more than a minor problem. It wasn't that the American eater wasn't getting any meat. It was scarce in some sections, though, and the story was that the situation might get worse. How much worse, housewives wondered?

Then Secretary of Agriculture Wickard, as chairman of the Food Requirements Committee, spoke. Ration cards for meat were indicated as of Jan. 1 despite the year's estimated 24 billion pound meat output, the largest ever. Against Hitler's weekly ration of 12 ounces of meat to a German adult, five ounces to a Belgian and the British civilian's weekly pound, Americans might anticipate 2½ pounds of meat a week.

This is about average civilian meat consumption since 1932. With poultry, cheese and dry beans, it will provide, Wickard said, "a top-notch protein diet."

Coupons for Fuel.

Eastern fuel oil users were virtually assured during the week of having another ration card added to their collection within 60 days.

From a special committee in Washington came reported approval of a rationing plan favored by OPA. It called for maximum temperatures of about 68 degrees, with distribution of oil based on space to be heated in four different Atlantic Coast climate zones. Consumers would file applications stating the amount of space to be heated. Oil to meet special emergencies, such as illnesses or unexpected cold snaps, would be met from reserve supplies.

Legs Not Artistic?

Well-constructed and well-revealed feminine legs are standard equipment for certain kinds of magazine covers.

The postoffice department questions, however, whether such pictures and such magazines are really published "for the dissemination of information of a public character, or devoted to literature, the sciences, arts or some special industry."

That is the qualifying requirements for the low rate, second class mail which cost the department $108,144,994 to handle last year at a deficit of $83,835,364. More than 20 periodicals have lost second class privileges recently as the postoffice department tried to cut its losses.

Now the Police Gazette, 97-year-old barber shop sports magazine, has been invited to prove its devotion to literature, science and the arts.

Harry Appleman went to Newark to work as patrolman for B. & O. railroad.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Carpenter's Hall, Philadelphia, this date, 1774, was the scene of the meeting of the First Continental congress. In spite of efforts of the royal governors to prevent elections, delegates to the congress were chosen in all colonies except Georgia and it was a notable gathering of fifty-five members that met to discuss their grievances against their parent country.

2. What city is the capital of Paraguay?
3. What is the capital of the Republic of Salvador?

Words of Wisdom.

Some one says, "Boys will be boys"; he forgot to add, "Boys will be men."

Hints on Etiquette.

You shouldn't need this hint and probably don't, but when your soldier or sailor sweetheart comes home on a furlough, all spick and span in his uniform, match his trim appearance with your own. Be neat and clean, with tidy hair, trim dress or suit, chin up, shoulders back, absolutely no sloppiness, when you are walking down the street with him.

One-Minute Test Answers.

2. Asuncion.
3. San Salvador.

Daily Bible Thought

But forget not this one thing, beloved, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day.—2 Peter 3:8.

Quotes

Joseph C. Grew, returned ambassador to Tokyo: "They (Japanese) look upon us Americans as constitutional weaklings . . . unwilling to make the sacrifices demanded for victory. When they struck, they made no provision for failure . . . and they will continue to fight until they are utterly crushed."

The Rev. Charles H. Joy, returned refugee worker in western Europe: "Germany cannot be starved into submission until all of the peoples of occupied nations are dead. The only answer is a military defeat, not economic exhaustion."

The Chinese, at mid-week, had retaken nearly 350 miles of the 450-mile Chekiang-Kiangsi railroad, had recovered most of the territory taken by the invaders this summer.

Complicated India.

Rioting, sabotage, and work stoppages in India, the outgrowth of Mohandas Gandhi's compaign of passive resistance against British rule, has made more complicated a situation which would be serious under the best conditions.

There were indications, though, that the Japanese for the present, at least might be satisfied with defensive operations in Burma. Gen. Joseph H. Stilwell, U. S. commander-in-chief in India, China, and Burma, along with many other military experts, believed there was a "very good chance" that the immediate Japanese objective was Siberia. There were plenty of signs to support that belief.

Abroad

Battle for Stalingrad.

Like two weary, punch-woozy boxers, the armies of Field Marshal Fedor von Bock and Marshal Semeon Timoshenko battled it out during the week on the approaches to Stalingrad.

Von Bock had his foe on the ropes and knew it. If he could keep punching, weary as he was, just a little longer, the Russian had to fall.

The Nazi pincer northwest of Stalingrad was von Bock's left. Timoshenko kept that fist tied up during most of the week, but the German still swung his mailed right up from the southwest and pounded it home with punishing force.

In the Caucasus, the Germans continued steady — but slow — advances, moving in closer toward important Black Sea ports and hacking away at fierce Cossack resistance in the mountains.

Spanish Shakeup.

Important in international developments of the week was Spanish Generalissimo Franco's removal of his brother-in-law, strongly pro-Nazi Ramon Serrano Suner, not only from the office of foreign minister but from the presidency of the Falange, Spain's sole political party.

While this drastic and daring shake-up looks like an internal affair, its potentialities in relation to the Allies and the Axis powers are vast. There is much that needs clarification, but we can at least say that Franco's action must cause heartburnings in Berlin and is a matter of satisfaction to the United Nations.

Another Sandstorm.

When Field Marshal Erwin Rommel rammed his armored forces into the British defensive line before Tobruk early this summer it was during a sandstorm that the tide of battle began to turn.

The Desert Fox, holed up for two months in the bottleneck between the Qattara Depression and the Mediterranean, once again used a sandstorm to good advantage, striking out under cover of the worst desert storm of the war to launch what could become the battle of the Middle East.

This time, though, American fliers joined the RAF and both kept hammering away at the wily German's attacking forces despite the bad flying weather.

Tojo Out—Togo In.

Latest indicator that the Japanese had an eye on Siberia was the resignation of fragile, whispering Shigenori Togo as foreign minister.

Togo, negotiator of the Moscow-Tokyo neutrality pact, supposedly was opposed to Nipponese hostility against Russia. His departure, and the assumption of his vacated post by Premier Gen. Hideki Tojo, set the stage for unhindered action by Japan's aggressive war party.

Chinese Come Back.

The Chinese, while the Japs apparently prepared for an attack on some other front, took full advantage of Nipponese withdrawals from Kiangsi and Chekiang provinces.

To the capture of Chuhsien, Chekiang airbase within easy bomber range of Tokyo, they added another airport at Lishui and closed in on a third at Kinhwa. In Kiangsi province they were bearing down on Nanchang, main Japanese troop pool.

People

Royal Blush.

Red-faced Pvt. Ora A. Foster stood in the middle of an English village street and gasped.

A Pontiac, Mich., boy, Foster, 22, had thought nothing of it when a kindly, gray-haired lady halted her chauffeur-driven limousine when the Yank thumbed a ride. She asked him how he liked England, remarked that Americans and British should get to know one another better.

To that end, when the car halted at Foster's destination, his benefactress introduced herself. She was Queen Mother Mary.

Double Perfect.

"He was nice and polite to everybody," said Mrs. Louis L. Huot of her late husband.

"He was kind and gentle, attentive and affable," said Mrs. Louis H. Meeks of her late husband.

They were both talking about the same man, a quiet, Los Angeles architect, who died in a hospital there after a long illness. Mrs. Meeks had paid for funeral services and the casket and was about to bury the man she said she married July 14, 1924, when the first wife appeared.

Mrs. Huot claimed priority to the architect, said she was married to him July 14, 1911. The women said he had in turn been a good husband to both of them in the same city for 18 years and neither had worried for some time about his frequent "business" absences from home.

In Short

Disclosed: By an "authoritative source," that the president's special rubber committee had completed its investigation and was ready to submit its findings and recommendations.

Announced: Discovery of a revolutionary plot against the Ecuador government. Retired Army Commander Virgilia Molina was arrested and accused of being the chief conspirator.

Predicted: By Dr. Hans Elias of Middlesex university, that the post-war world would be so poor that women would have to return to their great-great grandma's spinning wheel and men would have to build their own cottages.

Reported: To congress by Attorney General Biddle, that 36 Government employes had been dismissed and 12 others disciplined as the result of charges of subversive affiliations. He said 2,095 investigations had been completed, agreed with a statement by the committee in charge of the probe that "sweeping charges of disloyalty in the federal service have not been substantiated."

ASHLAND GIRL WEDS CLEVELAND MAN IN AFTERNOON CEREMONY

ASHLAND—A home wedding Thursday afternoon at the home of Attorney and Mrs. B. W. McCray of this city united in marriage their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to William J. McKenzie, son of Mrs. Robert McKenzie of Cleveland.

The wedding ceremony was read by Dr. H. E. Andrews, pastor of the Presbyterian church, before an improvised altar of garden flowers.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Myron Oliver of Loudonville sang "I Love You Truly" with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Robert McKenzie of Cleveland, sister-in-law of the bridegroom. Appropriate nuptial music was also played by the pianist during the ceremony.

The bride wore a peplum-styled defense blue street length dress with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of talisman roses. The bride's only attendant was Miss Martha Downs of Ashland who wore dubonnet with black accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

Robert B. McKenzie of Cleveland, brother of the groom, was the best man.

A wedding supper was served at The Woods, Cornus Lane, for the immediate families and few friends who attended the wedding. Appointments and favors were in blue and white.

The couple are now on a Michigan trip and after Tuesday will reside in Cleveland. Mrs. McKenzie, a graduate of Ashland high school and Oberlin School of Commerce, is employed in the United States Employment Service office in Cleveland. McKenzie is a graduate of West Technical high school of Cleveland and attended Ohio State university. He is a publicist in Cleveland and a member of Beta Phi Sigma fraternity.

MANSFIELD BUSINESS IN REVIEW

OPS Experts Help Mansfielders Keep Better Sight Through Better Light

Maintain Service to Aid Home-Makers With Problems.

Most everyone has heard the old saying, "Man works from sun to sun, but woman's work is never done." Housewives still believe this.

But few men, who have the responsibility of planning lighting for Mansfield homes, such as the workers for the Ohio Public Service company do, because their job is on their mind 24 hours a day (dreams included!)

The first function of Ohio Public Service employes is to establish home lighting to make seeing easy and comfortable—to provide the right amount of the right kind of light, wherever light is needed.

Mansfield homemakers, with the aid of these OPS lighting experts are learning that good lighting is an extremely easy and economical way of adding to the beauty and attractiveness of the home.

Planned lighting, designed by OPS research men for decorative as well as utilitarian value, is now a requisite for every new home. And in thousands of older homes planned lighting has made the entire appearance of the homes brighter, more attractive, more cheerful.

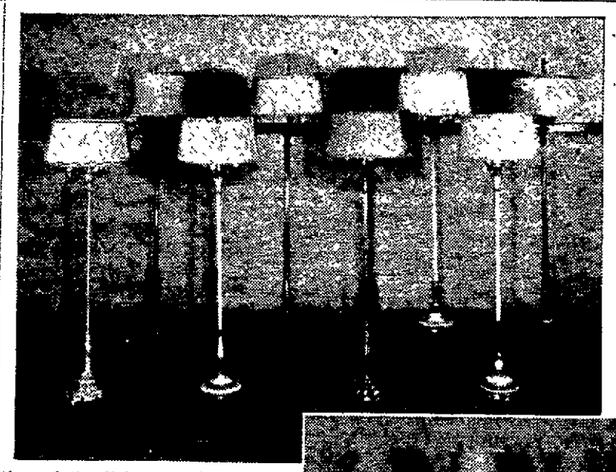
Before considering the decorative effects which may be obtained with light, your OPS expert has clearly in mind the four requirements for good home lighting.

1. Have enough light for the seeing task to be done. The amount of light needed for easy seeing is not a matter of guesswork. Scientific minimums have been established, below which you cannot go without danger of eye fatigue and strain. OPS experts use the Light Meter to determine exactly the amount of light in every corner of your home.

2. Avoid glare—Shade all bulbs. Glare is raw, irritating light, produced by bare lamps, or lamps from which the light is improperly diffused or shaded.

3. Avoid contrasts—Have enough light in enough places. Contrast is the difference between the amount of light on your work and the rest of the room. If the light on your work is bright and the rest of the room dark, the eyes must readjust themselves every time you glance up from the work. The result is severe eyestrain.

4. There must be correct direction of the light. Avoid working in shadows. Place floor and table lamps so that the light comes over the shoulder, either shoulder for reading, and over the left shoulder for writing or sewing.



The latest designs in lamps needed to give your home balanced and sufficient lighting are available at the Ohio Public Service company on South Park street. OPS lighting experts are on hand at all times to give advice as to the proper use of table or floor lamps in order to lighten up those dark corners in your living room or kitchen. In pictures above are shown two groups of scientifically-correct lights which combine beauty and utility. The top photo shows the latest design floor lamps while smart-looking table lamps are displayed below.

There are four methods of lighting and OPS lighting engineers are thoroughly familiar with all of them. Direct lighting is the method by which most of the lighting is thrown directly down into the room. This method produces sharp shadows and glare.

Semi-direct lighting finds its best example in the conventional enclosed glass kitchen. Direct rays of the lamp are broken up by the frosted glass bowl of the fixture. While the major portion of the light is directed downward, the diffusing bowl reduces glare and makes the surroundings more cheerful.

Totally indirect lighting is designed to throw all light upward to the ceiling where it is reflected downward into the room. Semi-indirect lighting is the method by which most of the lighting is directed toward the ceiling, and part of it downward into the room.

From the standpoint of lighting, the living room is the most important room in your home. Its lighting requirements vary from the high amounts needed for close reading to the soft, restful illumination such as you might want for a quiet evening of radio music.

Three types of units are used in living room lighting, and all three may be used to advantage in the same room; ceiling fixtures, wall brackets and floor and table lamps.

The Ohio Public Service can supply you with any of these types and will give you expert advice at the same time as to how you may get the most benefit out of them.

The OPS fixtures are not only very decorative but, even more important, they provide an excellent quality of soft, glareless light.

In recent years, tremendous improvements have been made in the design of floor and table lamps for the home. Most popular among Mansfielders are those recommended by the Illuminating Engineering society. Called I. E. S. Lamps, these scientifically-correct units utilize the semi-direct principle. The lamp bulb is shielded by a glass bowl, which provides a wide spread of diffused, glareless light downward, yet releases most of the light upward to the ceiling where it is reflected into the room as general illumination.

The new certified I. E. S. lamps are available at the Ohio Public Service company in a variety of handsome styles, in both floor and table models. They are especially recommended as the ideal lamp for children and students, whose young eyes need the protection of scientifically correct light.

The first rule for dining room illumination is that it be bright and cheerful, and free from glare. All bulbs should be shaded. If your dining room is of the usual size, probably the most satisfactory means of lighting it is through the use of a pendant-type fixture suspended directly over the table.

There are two requisites for a well-lighted, comfortable kitchen. The first is a central fixture, usually a single, enclosed, diffusing unit, of the semi-indirect. The second requisite is enough auxiliary light so that the housewife need never work in her shadow. This is accomplished by having supplementary fixtures for illumination at the sink, range and work table.

In a great many homes the bedroom is used as a room for study, sewing or reading; no longer is it merely a place to sleep. The reading chair or chaise lounge should be illuminated by a floor lamp or a table lamp which provides the correct light for easy reading or sewing.

In the average-size bathroom, a ceiling fixture of semi-indirect design is recommended by OPS experts. They say that in a very small bathroom, however, the ceiling fixture may be ommitted in preference to lights on each side of the mirror. In this case, the mirror lights are controlled from a wall switch inside the bathroom door.

In addition to all these regular parts of your home, the Ohio Public Service company urges you to inspect the lighting facilities of your laundry, basement, furnace room, rear door and garage, closets and stairways.

"Better Light for Better Sight" is the watchword of these OPS experts.

PAINT RUGS ON FLOORS

A celebrated decorator paints gay rugs on the floor boards of houses. When the winter rugs are removed for summer storage, the painted designs, which have borders and central motifs, are revealed and serve as novel floor decorations.

MANSFIELD SOLDIER WEDS DAYTON GIRL

Miss Marthabelle Cotterman Becomes Bride of Tech. Sergt. Harlen L. McCauslin In Piqua Church on Aug. 8.

ANNOUNCEMENT is being made of the marriage of Miss Marthabelle Cotterman, daughter of Mrs. William Cotterman of Dayton, to Tech. Sergt. Harlen L. McCauslin, son of Mrs. Dora McCauslin of Mansfield. Rev. Ira Clark, pastor of the First United Brethren church at Piqua, read the double ring ceremony on August 8.

Preceding the exchange of vows, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Delphos Smith, church organist. The church was beautifully decorated with gladioli, ferns, palms and candleabra.

The bride's full length gown with train had a sweetheart neckline outlined with seed pearls. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a Juliet cap and she carried a bouquet of roses.

Mrs. Harry Tilton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pale blue brocaded satin gown with white elbow-length gloves. The bridesmaid, Miss Helen McCauslin, sister of the bridegroom, was dressed similarly in pink. Each carried a bouquet of pink roses. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cotterman was attired in black and the bridegroom's mother wore aqua and white. Both had corsages of gardenias and roses.

Best man for Sergt. McCauslin was Ralph Linerode of Alliance and the attendant was Billy Coterman, brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception for friends and relatives was held at the home of the bride's sister in Morraine City. Decorations included a wedding cake topped by a miniature bridal couple and roses.

Mrs. McCauslin was graduated from Parker Cooperative high school in Dayton and was employed by the Delco Products company in that city. Sergt. McCauslin was graduated from Alliance high school and the Air Corps Technical school at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill. He is now stationed at Camp Williams, Wis.

Guests were present from Mansfield, Piqua, Dayton, Port Jefferson, Toledo, Alliance, Salem, Sedalia, Sidney and Pikeville.

Army Nurse Is At Fort Knox

Miss Magdalen Merle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Merle of Pavonia, is one of the few Mansfield girls who have enlisted in the Army Nurses Corps. She left Sept. 1 and is now a second lieutenant, stationed at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

MISS MERLE

Miss Merle is a graduate of the Toledo State hospital and has been employed at Galion City hospital for the past six months. Her brother, Anton, also is in the army. He is in the military police, stationed at Camp Claiborne, La.

Dinner Served at Cottage Friday

Twenty-nine members of the Past Matrons' association of the Order of the Eastern Star and seven guests enjoyed their annual chicken dinner Friday at the L. D. Bowers cottage on the Park avenue west road. The guests were Mrs. Esther Place of Galion, deputy grand matron for District No. 10, Mrs. Elma Stevenson of Shiloh, Mrs. Leo. G. Dewey, who has just moved here from Iowa, Mrs. Rhoda Fisher, Mrs. Laura Allen, Miss Ann Horn and Miss Roberta Weil.

There will be an evening meeting Oct. 2 with the Misses Thelma and Ada Hursh and Mrs. E. R. Hartman as hostesses.

Kitchen Shower Honors Bride

Honoring Mrs. Norman H. Sanders, the former Lois Marilyn Phifer, Mrs. Richard I. Selver entertained with a kitchen shower at her home, 596 Bigelow road, Thursday evening. Twelve guests played "Zingo" and the prizes, which were miscellaneous kitchen articles, were presented to Mrs. Sanders by the winners.

As the bridegroom is in the navy, a patriotic color scheme was used. Centerpiece for the luncheon table was an anchor and miniature sailors. The gifts for the honoree were arranged on a separate table. Mrs. Selver presented Mrs. Sanders with a cook book as her special gift.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Eagles Auxiliary Invited to Corn Roast Next Week

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles met at the Eagles hall last night. President, Mrs. Thelma Fisher, conducted the business meeting and welcomed Mrs. Grace Lehner, from Marion, who is now a new member.

Victory prize for the evening was awarded to Mrs. Irma Gilmore on the West Fourth street road the evening of Sept. 11.

It was announced that the Drill team will meet at the hall on Sept. 14 in the evening and the next regular September meeting for the auxiliary will be followed by a social time in charge of Mrs. Alice Stutz, chairman.

Bride of Today Honored at Tea

Three members of the Thursday Art club, Mrs. Howard Almy, Mrs. George Kochenderfer and Mrs. Rollie Miller, were hostesses for a tea Thursday at the former's home on Rae avenue. It was in honor of Miss Alvern Bates, who will become the bride of Alfred Sneeringer this afternoon.

Appointments were lovely in green and white. Presiding at the table were Mrs. A. T. Sneeringer and Mrs. Arthur Hoover. Members of the club presented Miss Bates with a gift. Guests were Mrs. Lowell Bourns, Mrs. George Culler and Mrs. Eugene Renwick.

Steak Fry Held In Fiesta Room

Eight members of the membership committee of the Women of the Moose and three guests met Thursday at the lodge home. A steak fry was enjoyed in the Fiesta room. Guests for the occasion were Miss Eva Hageman of Bucyrus, Mary Ryan and Marion Amsbaugh. Hostesses were Mrs. Nellie Morrison and Mrs. Carrie Southward. Miss Letha Hageman, committee chairman, conducted the business session.

Sales tax stamps were counted by the members. Decision was made to buy war savings stamps with the proceeds. The chairman asked members to be blood donors. On Oct. 1 there will be a covered-dish dinner at the home of Miss Hageman, 151 Harker street. Miss Bea Staunton will be associate hostess.

To Live In Mount Vernon

MR. AND MRS. LINDEMAN

Miss Norma Jarvis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jarvis, became the bride of Fred J. Lindeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lindeman of near Butler on Aug. 29. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Roy A. Hamilton at Greenup, Ky. The couple was accompanied by the bride's mother and two brothers, Merle and Walter. Mr. and Mrs. Lindeman will reside at 606 Sandusky street in Mt. Vernon, where the bridegroom is employed by the Cooper-Bessemer Steel corporation.

BANQUET CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Banquet club was postponed for two weeks because the following members enjoyed a boat excursion from Sandusky to Detroit, Mich., Mrs. Glen McMillen, Mrs. S. D. Thatcher, Mrs. Lois Lee, Mrs. Roy Metz, Miss Betty Trace, Mrs. John George, Mrs. Mabel DeWitt, Mrs. Mabel Trace, Mrs. Edward McMahon and Francis McMahon. The club will meet Sept. 17 at the home of Mrs. Frank McGinty, 288 West Sixth street.

Church Society Holds Meeting At Diehl Home

When members of the Lucretia Hedges missionary society of the First Methodist church met last evening at the home of Mrs. Foster Diehl, 41 Douglas avenue, associate hostesses were Miss Clara Parker and and Miss Rebecca Grubaugh. The business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. George Hout.

Miss Ethlyn Auten served as program chairman and Miss Capitola Kissane presented devotions. Excerpts relative to Latin America were taken from the society's magazine, "The Methodist Woman," and were read by Miss Ethel Hughes. Mrs. George Hout gave an interesting review of the study book, "Christian Roots of Democracy." Miss Geraldine Harley, guest soloist, sang two selections accompanied by Miss Pauline Stottler.

In response to roll call, each member named her favorite hymn. Mrs. Clyde Vail was welcomed as a new member. Following the business session, refreshments were served by the hostess and her committee. On Oct. 2, the society will be entertained by Mrs. Foster Stough at her home on East Second street. Associate hostesses will be Mrs. Paul Welsh and Mrs. Minnie Grabler.

Name Chairmen Of Boosters Club

Forty members and guests of the Boosters club of the Central Methodist church met last evening at the church for a covered-dish dinner. Afterwards a business session was conducted and committees appointed.

Chairmen for the various committees are as follows: Ways and means, Mr. and Mrs. William Wert; membership, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hill; hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bair. Next meeting will be Oct. 2 at the church.

HOROSCOPE

FOR SUNDAY, SEPT. 6.

Sunday's horoscope stresses social, affectional, cultural and mystical pursuits, although there should not be a lack of energy, enterprise and determination to forge ahead in any avenue in which the faculties may be concentrated.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a lively, enterprising and successful year, with much opportunity for constructive ability displayed in practical as well as finer and higher performance. The artistic, astute and subtle forces are stimulated to accomplishment, perhaps in literary, musical and social realms.

A child born on this day should have many abilities and talents both of a practical and cultural nature.

FOR MONDAY, SEPT. 7

Monday's astrological forecast is a splendid one, promising much liveliness and commotion, aimed in the direction of surprising but enduring achievement. Unusual situations or opportunities may unfold, giving scope for fine and sagacious performance, backed up by deep insight and sound logic.

Those whose birthday it is may have a successful and progressive year, in which sudden, surprising and radical situations arise to promote enduring success and satisfaction. Brilliant creative ability backed up by sound logic, depth of character and purpose assure far-reaching good fortune.

A child born on this day should have many versatile talents, be progressive and profound, perhaps spectacular or unique.

CHAPTER XVII

Frani tried to help once, but succeeded only in making paper wads. "Daphne didn't get her creative ability or her patience in making this sort of thing from me," she declared disgustedly. "But I'll be right on hand for the big first night."

The "big first night" was actually an afternoon with the first snow whitening the ground outside and flinging feathery flakes against the nursery window. Daphne's cast had been removed and though she was not allowed to walk, she had been placed in a big wheel chair and brought into the nursery.

A fire had been kindled in the blue and white tile Dutch fireplace, flames lighting the burnished gold of Marcia's hair and the paler gold of Dr. Ames' rough shock, painting ruddy color on Daphne's round cheeks, the dancing light was reflected in Amy's eyes.

Miss Bolton, the nurse, was there, and Margaret, and the butler and chauffeur and cook. Daphne had insisted upon a full audience.

"But there ought to be a few kids here Guy whispered

"Yep.' Dr. Ames said. "Too bad to have all this fuss for one spoiled youngster. But Mrs. Dillingham'll remedy that when Daphne gets well."

Amy, who had been fussing with the footlights on the miniature stage, looked up to realize that Frani was standing away from the others, with an air of being outside the circle.

"Uncle Paul made the scenery," Daphne was explaining. "And Daddy fixed the stage. And Marcia made the curtains. And Tudor and I fixed the puppets."

With dreadful childlike candor she added, "and mother just wasn't in it."

Frani laughed—too carelessly. Amy realized what she had done. She had intended to help Frani with Daphne but instead she had taken Daphne away from her.

"There is a place where mother can be in it," Dr. Ames was saying.

Then in answer to Frani's look of amazement he said, "Do you remember—four years ago you were at a night club—I can't think of the name of the place—and someone asked you to sing that song from Snow White—'Some Day My Prince Will Come' —and you got up and sang it from memory?"

"You heard it?" Frani asked.

"Of course I heard it. I was one of those who applauded. Remember how we made you sing it twice? This show isn't Snow White. But there's a princess in it. And the gal surely is waiting for her prince. Anyway every show has to have a theme song."

The others caught the idea and urged Frani until at length she said doubtfully, "I don't sing anymore. But perhaps if I had an accompaniment—"

"I can wang it out after a fashion," Dr. Ames said. "If I can get my knees under that." He indicated the nursery piano.

The show was a success. The puppets got their strings twisted only twice. The dialogue was extraordinary vivacious, with Daphne contributing her part from her chair.

At length she announced, "The show's over."

* * *

Dr. Ames held up his hand for silence. Frani rose and stood alone in a corner of the room. He tilted a bridge lamp so that it shone upward on her face. Then he hunched himself over the little piano and struck the opening chords.

Frani's hostess dress was a creamy white velvet that matched her gardenia skin. In the spotlight her eyes were sea blue and her hair a dusky cloud over her shoulders

She sang 'Some day my prince will come"

There was magic in Frani's voice It was not beautiful. It was a torch singer's voice, too low, but it had a throb in it, a rich, moving quality.

"Some day when dreams are done."

Amy stole a quick glance at Paul. He was looking at the floor as though he were afraid to lift his eyes Then at Marcia. She was looking at Paul and it was plain that she was eager for her prince to come.

Amy looked at Guy and met his direct gaze, a questioning, worried gaze. She turned from it self-consciously and looked at Dr. Ames. Dr. Ames' hands were on the piano keys, but his eyes were on Frani, and in them was adoration.

Frani's song ended. The low, pleading voice died away on the words, "Some day when dreams are done."

There was silence in the nursery. So quiet it was that you could hear the crackle of the fire and almost, it seemed, the tiny thud of snowflakes against the window panes. Dr. Ames still looked at Frani standing so tall and straight in the improvised spotlight with the white velvet dress falling softly about her strong, beautiful body and that luminous blue light in her eyes. Amy looked about the circle—from Guy to Marcia to Paul and to the servants. She hoped—oh, she hoped—none of them saw the expression on his face.

But she need not have worried. For suddenly there was a clapping of small hands and a little cry. Daphne, whom all of them had forgotten in the strange cross currents of emotions that swept over her head, was leaning forward in her wheel chair laughing, but her upcurled black eyelashes were wet. Stout little Daphne who wouldn't cry when her leg was set was shedding tears over her mother's song.

"It's beautiful, mother," she cried. "It's just beautiful."

She held out her arms and Frani went to her. The two dark heads now were close together, Daphne's small, plump arms clutching Frani fiercely.

"It was the best thing in my whole show," Daphne declared. "Better'n Tudor's puppets. Better'n Daddy's stage. Better'n anything."

This was Frani's moment of triumph and none of those who had worked for weeks on the puppet show begrudged her.

Paul looked surprised and dreamy and a little as though he had seen a miracle as he turned off the electric footlights on the diminutive stage.

"Why didn't you ever sing for me before, Mother?" Daphne asked wonderingly.

"Because no one asked me," Frani said simply. "And now," she declared, deliberately changing the mood of the group. "There are refreshments to be served."

But Amy, folding the puppets in their boxes carefully so that strings should not be tangled, was wondering whether it was Guy's fault that Frani hadn't been asked to sing. Hitherto she had blamed Frani entirely for the chasm of misunderstanding between the two of them, but now she saw the possibility that even Guy, good as he was, might have made mistakes.

Strange that when he had met Frani through her singing he had never asked her to sing afterward—that he had let her gift be smothered. Sometimes, she thought, a man will marry a woman because of a certain quality in her and afterward he will seek to destroy that very quality.

It was curious that Dr. Ames, with his bluntness and lack of finesse, could handle Frani while Guy, with his consideration and gentleness, seemed to draw from her only anger and opposition. But there were times when Frani could work her will with Dr. Ames too, as was evidenced the time his car stalled.

It was a winter Sunday, but there were no snowdrifts, no freezing temperature, something went wrong with Dr. Ames' car outside the gate of the estate and he came puffing up the slope to the house, blustering a little, angry and mortified.

And Frani laughed at him.

"It's not funny," he declared. And then ruefully, "I have to be back at the hospital by 10:30. Miss Isabella Simms will be ready for me in the operating room at 11 sharp. She's a funny old hen, but she is a swell person and I wouldn't have anything happen to her."

"I'll drive you in," Frani said eagerly.

Dr. Ames colored up to his shock of yellow hair. "Why—why—I can have a car out from town. Or couldn't your chauffeur take me in?"

"I have other things for him to do." Frani said impishly. "Anyway, I want to drive you. I will."

"Exactly like Daphne," he laughed.

Marcia wouldn't be over that day. This time she really was in Louisville for the week-end. Miss Bolton, the nurse, had said that Daphne was a little over-excited and mustn't have company.

"That suits me," Paul told Amy when he came in in the afternoon. "Because I'm taking you down to the studio. Don't look like that, sweet. There's nothing to worry about. Unless good news upsets you! Big news! Hurry up! Get ready! Have you some kind of ski suit to wear? The day looks like spring, but it's winter in the hollows."

Amy had a ski suit—relic of former trips to Switzerland and Vermont—bright red, with grey chinchilla edging its hood, and big red mittens edged with chinchilla.

"You look like something from a magazine cover," Paul complimented her as they set out across the hilltop. "But you're too conspicuous. See that clump of bushes half way down there? I'd intended to kiss you when we get behind them. You're going to marry me sooner than you thought."

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

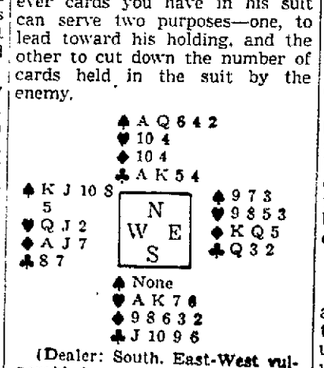
"The Authority on Authorities"

FEAR A MIS-FIT HAND

Having something in your partner's suit is important for more reasons than merely using it as trump support if you raise him or pass his bid. It also is of telling value when you select No Trumps for the final declaration. Except in cases where you can run a lot of set-up tricks in your own hand, you take a great risk in striving for a No-Trump game if you are blank in his suit. Whatever cards you have in his suit can serve two purposes—one, to lead toward his holding, and the other to cut down the number of cards held in the suit by the enemy.



(Dealer: South. East-West vulnerable)

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	3 ♣	Pass
3 ♦	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
3 NT

South's correct bid on his last turn was not 3-No Trumps, but 4-Clubs. With not even a singleton of spades, his partner's longer suit, there was no chance to finesse it, and not even much chance to get the little cards of it set up by giving up earlier tricks. The opponents held too many cards of it.

West had somewhat of a problem in leading. Assuredly he would not lead North's main suit of spades. He would not lead South's first suit, hearts, and he would not lead his diamond tenace holding over the suit called at his right, so clubs only remained. South let the club 8 run, East wining with the Q and switching to the heart 3. Now you try to figure out how South can take more than six tricks — one in spades, two in hearts and three in clubs. This South couldn't so was down three tricks.

By careful play North would have had a good chance to make 4-Clubs using little trumps in both hands for ruffing at almost every opportunity. The club Q and two diamond tops would score, but South could play for the rest of the tricks.

Your Week-End Lesson.

Which is ordinarily more valuable, the king-queen of a suit or the ace? Why? When is one more useful, and when the other? Can you give examples, from actual play or from constructed hands, to illustrate the principles involved?

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

THERE WAS in Noel's voice now the old note of jealous rage, a note which had burst from him without his volition.

But I hastened to answer his explosive query, with emphasis on every word.

"Mary doesn't want to do anything about it," I told him. "She loathes the idea of going out with Redfield, even with Olina along, as much as you hate to have her. But only because my father has said he wishes it, she has said she would abide by your decision."

I had quoted the spirit, rather than the letter, of Mary's words, but I was rewarded by the sudden fading of jealous anger from Noel's face.

"That leaves me no alternative," he said, after a pause. "Tell her—and your father, please—that I will make no fuss about whatever dinner dates your father wishes her to have with Olina and that—that beast. "But," and his voice was suddenly ferocious again, "please tell your father, too, what I said before — that if Redfield isn't removed from that cast soon, I'll remove him in such fashion that he'll never be able to trade on his face again. It won't be attractive."

Noel Calms Dawn

I said no word of reproof for his threat. Indeed, I secretly sympathized with it. And as I moved toward the door I said:

"I am sure Redfield will not be long with the cast. And thank you so much for everything. Mary will be here as soon as my father finishes talking to her."

"I'll be waiting for her," he said more calmly. Then I sped back to my own suite and found Mary sitting where I had left her, her hands clasped tightly together, her eyes looking into space.

"What luck?" she asked tensely.

"The best," I answered, and forthwith related every word of my interview with her husband.

"If you ask me," she said, "I think the time is about ripe for us to tell Papa Phil all about Stevie and his subversive activities, and see that he is kicked out of the play. What do you say?"

Time Not Ripe

"I think you're right," I told her, and saw that she was surprised at my quick acquiescence. "But," I qualified, "you said 'about ripe,' and that just expresses it. The time isn't quite ripe, but you won't have to possess your soul in patience much longer."

She sprang up and began to pace up and down the room, with a graceful stride which held something feral. I watched her without speaking, for I knew that silence was my best weapon against the resentment consuming her. When she faced me again, I heard just the question I expected.

"Why isn't it al lthe way ripe?" she demanded.

"Because," I said patiently, "my father has not said yet that he is ready for the final showdown with Steve. And you know that we cannot make a move until he gives the word.

"I am very sure that he has planned Steve's elimination from the scene of action very soon, but he has given me no instruction except that he wishes you and Olina to go to dinner with Steve once or twice more, so that Steve may have no suspicion of what is up."

"As I told you just now, you never need to go out alone with him again. But if you break off your association with him abruptly, he might begin to suspect the truth, and that—can't you see?"

Wells Captures Senior Title By Seven Stroke Margin

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Frank E. Jones of West Lafayette, who plays his golf at Coshocton, is a new member of the Ohio Senior Golf association, but the 36 holes he played at Westbrook yesterday and Thursday were not the first for him on the tricky Mansfield layout.

"Several years ago," says Jones, "I and a couple other guys got to talking over a Sunday 19th hole, and we decided we would go on a trip which is the dream of all golfers, to see how many different courses we could play in a week.

"Westbrook was the first course on our itinerary on Monday morning.

"We intended," continued Jones, "to play only one round of 18 holes at Westbrook, and then move on to another course in the afternoon and proceed on our way according to plan.

"But we had so much fun on that first 18, we played another round. And on Saturday we were still at Westbrook, and still playing our 36 holes a day."

Those Coshocton golfers couldn't have paid Westbrook a better tribute. It takes a real course to break up a dream trip like that.

* * *

M. A. Copeland, Cleveland golfer in the 60 to 64 age group, came very close to scoring the only hole-in-one of the Seniors' tournament.

His drive yesterday hit the pin on No. 8 and bounced back 3 or 4 inches toward the tee.

And his foursome made him putt it out.

Which reminds me of the time Charlie Salisbury, champion of Mt. Vernon Country club 15 of the past 17 years, was playing dime skins with a foursome of champion scalp hunters, and his drive on the Mt. Vernon lake hole rolled up to the cup but was held out by the pin which had not been placed properly in the can and was leaning toward the tee.

And when the pin was removed, the ball stayed right on the edge of the cup.

And those scalp hunters made him putt it out before they would pay off. There are guys like that.

Bucks Have Light Team

Browns Order 43 Men For Opening Practice.

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Ohio State university's football training grind begins today with a full work schedule—for everyone except the players.

Coach Paul E. Brown ordered 43 hopefuls, 11 of them lettermen, to report today—for uniform fitting and picture taking.

Brown, starting his second season as Buckeye mentor, gets his wish for "lean and hungry" players. This year's crew is about 10 pounds lighter per man and their average age is about a year less than that of last year's squad, making it probably the youngest and lightest grid team ever to represent the the university.

* * *

The Buck coach must build a new group of runners, having lost 18 of last year's lettermen including the entire starting backfield. Twenty-four of the 43 are sophomores; three are seniors.

Picture taking is banned after today until the season starts. Brown instituted this policy last year to avoid slowdowns in practice.

"We will be racing against time in building our team," he commented.

The players get together Sunday to become familiar with organization details. Twice-daily practice sessions begin Monday and continue through Sept. 19, when the boys taper off to once-a-day workouts until the opener with Fort Knox, Sept. 26.

LEGAL NOTICE

Harry LaMont, whose present address is unknown, will take notice that on August 14, 1942, Beatrice LaMont filed her certain petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Richland County, Ohio, being cause No 26576 on the docket of said court against him as defendant, praying among other things for divorce and equitable relief. Said Harry LaMont will take further notice that said cause will stand for hearing on and after September 28, 1942.

Dodgers Facing Big Test

Giants Get Chance They Waited 8 Years For.

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

BOLSTERED by the return of Pete Reiser and the bankroll of Larry MacPhail, the Brooklyn Dodgers faced a showdown in the National league pennant race today as they moved into New York's Polo Grounds to tangle with the galloping Giants, who have waited eight years for this opportunity.

It was in 1934 that the Dodgers jumped up from the second division and tripped the Giants on the threshold of the National league championship, forcing Bill Terry to eat his widely publicized query concerning the whereabouts of the Brooklyn club.

With the shoe on the other foot, Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooks has been careful not to include among his many utterances a statement which he also might have to devour, but the Giants haven't forgotten the humiliation they suffered in 1934.

* * *

Nor did they appreciate the Brooklyn hospitality on their last visit to Ebbets Field, when the Dodgers took four in a row.

In spite of that quadruple setback, the Giants are winding up their best season since 1937, when they won their last pennant.

All of which makes the three-game series opening today the toughest for the Dodgers between here and the end of the line.

Once over this hump, the Dodgers have only two more games with the threatening St. Louis Cardinals, one with the Giants and 11 with the Boston Braves and Philadelphia Phils, all but three of them on their home grounds.

When they take the field today the Dodgers will welcome Reiser back to the fold after an injury layoff and the Brooklyn fans will welcome Pitcher Bobo Newsom, purchased by President MacPhail on the road trip just ended to help the club "insure" the pennant.

Taking advantage of Brooklyn's idleness yesterday, the Cardinals jumped to within four games of the pace setters by downing the Cincinnati Reds, 5-3, in a night contest. In the only other game in the league last night, the Chicago Cubs collected ten hits off three Pittsburgh pitchers and whipped the Pirates, 5-3, behind the seven-hit hurling of Hiram Bithorn.

Play in the American league was confined to two teams, the St. Louis Browns and Cleveland Indians, who started a doubleheader with an afternoon game and finished it under the lights.

The Browns took both games, boosting their third place margin over the Tribe to two games and a half. Scores were 6-3 and 4-0.

The only other game scheduled in the American league, a night affair between the New York Yankees and the Washington Senators, was postponed until today because of weather.

Leafy Oak Trials Have Record Field

KENTON — (INS) — With the promise of a record-breaking field competing, one of the largest crowds in the 16 year history of the annual Leafy Oak national coon dog field trials was expected for the renewal of the event in Kenton tomorrow and Monday.

* * *

Dogs of every color, size and breed have arrived in town to vie for the purses which total $4,000.

* * *

Col. Henry J. Pfeiffer, who has been "master of ceremonies" since 1928, reports that 307 entries have already been received, surpassing last year's record breaking mark of 243. Pfeiffer predicted that at least 75 more would be received, swelling the field to nearly 400.

"Ham," owned by Saylor and Rossell of Dayton, is on hand to defend his 1941 laurels, but it is openly predicted that his aspirations will be futile as no champion has ever repeated in the previous 15 trials.

TRAVELERS PLAY METZ ALL-STARS

Mansfield Travelers and Metz All-Stars will meet in their softball-hardball double header tomorrow afternoon at the Fairground, with the hardball game scheduled at 1:30 p. m.

Travelers are playing at the Reformatory this afternoon, and Manager Red Hamman was uncertain who he would use on the mound for tomorrow's double bill.

CLUB LOOP MEETS

A meeting of the captains and officers for the purpose of organizing the Club Bowling league for the coming season, will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Colony bowling alleys. All old teams expected to enter this year should be represented.

DAYTON GAINS ON CHARLESTON CLUB

ZANESVILLE— (AP)—Dayton brightened its hopes of winning the mid-Atlantic league pennant last night, blanking Zanesville 4 to 0, while first-place Charleston divided a doubleheader with Erie. Charleston won the opener 6-3 and lost the second 4-2.

Dayton gained half a game in the standings, but the Senators still have a three and one-half game lead. The Ducks have five games to play before the season ends Monday and Charleston six.

Canton decisioned Springfield 7 to 2.

Blues Boost League Lead

Only Three Days Left In Association Race.

(By Associated Press)

Only three more days of play remain in the American Association, but the race for the pennant is nearly as wide open as it was on the opening day.

Three clubs—Kansas City with a .550 playing average, Milwaukee with .541 and the Columbus Red Birds with .540—will fight it out over the triple-holiday weekend.

The first-place Kansas City Blues open a five-game series with Milwaukee today, while the third-place Red Birds open a four-game stand at Toledo against a hustling ball club that is fighting it out with Louisville for a first division berth and a place in the play-offs.

There are not favorites in this fight chase. It's anybody's pennant.

There were only two games in the league yesterday, but these had plenty of bearing on the flag scramble. Kansas City beat Minneapolis 6 to 2 and the Columbus Red Birds lost to Indianapolis, 6-4. The Blues now hold a game and a half lead over both Milwaukee and Columbus.

Wins Ohio Senior Golf Championship

Joe Wells, East Liverpool tournament veteran, today wears the championship crown of the Ohio Senior Golf Association, which he won yesterday by the wide margin of seven strokes at Westbrook Country club.

SERIES GOAT PROVES HERO OF DODGERS

NEW YORK —(INS)— The man who was the goat of the last world series is the outstanding player of the Brooklyn club in the eyes of his teammates and manager.

He is Mickey Owen, of whom Leo "the Lip" Durocher recently said:

"He is far and away the most valuable player on the ball club —and that goes for the whole league—there isn't even a close second."

* * *

In this, strangely enough, Durocher is supported by a number of pilots of other clubs, including Bill McKechnie and Frankie Frisch.

To top it off, "dem bums," to a man, are in agreement in rating Owen the No. 1 man.

Minnesota Favored

Outstanding Sophomores Make It Great Team.

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO—(AP)—Cutting corners around the Big Ten football circuit: return of 147 grid lettermen in the conference this season makes a rosy picture despite the wailings heard about losses.

Twenty-two came back at Wisconsin, 20 at Minnesota, 18 at Ohio State, 17 at Northwestern and Purdue, 16 at Illinois, 14 at Indiana, 12 at Michigan and 11 at Iowa.

Minnesota should win the championships—it's third in a row, its seventh since 1934—the Gophers have enough material left over for a good team, but outstanding sophomores should make it a great team . . . a favorable schedule gives them a running start—they play only one conference team, Illinois, in the first month. . . .

Wisconsin should be the most improved team and this should be Harry Stuhldreher's "lucky seven" year . . . the Badgers will be faster and more experienced with unusual reserve strength in the line, heretofore a weakness . . . there are seven regulars back and 36 sophomores on hand, 11 of whom are rated grade-A.

Indiana will have trouble meeting together a line, for Bo McMillin lost eight lettermen and only one was a backfield performer. . . . The nearest thing he has to a veteran guard is a lad who played only 47 minutes last fall . . . Practices brought double-trouble—Dale Swihart, senior wingback, suffered a broken wrist the opening day. . . . Billy Hillenbrand fell from a horse. His elbow's in a cast and he'll be out of scrimmage at least a week.

This may be Purdue's best year since 1931. . . . Elmer Burnham, the new bossman, discarded the familiar Notre Dame attack for a short punt formation with variations and an offensive shift from three backs in a row. . . . He says there can be no such thing as a first team and that each man on the bench is as important as the man on the field.

What Northwestern lacks in power, it will make up in a diversified attack built around speed and passing by four junior backs. Otto Graham, Don Buffmire, Ed Hirsch and Dud Kean—only returning backfield lettermen.

Oddest note of the early season was struck by stories emanating from Michigan that Tom Kuzma, the 1941 sophomore wonder, will not be as great a halfback this season . . . Fritz Crisler says he's worried about this star, but it may be just another of his bear stories. . . . Look out, as usual for Michigan.

* * *

While looking around for All-America prospects, observers say watch tackle Dick Wildung and back Bill Dailey of Minnesota; Hillenbrand of Indiana; Graham of Northwestern; back Pat Harder of Wisconsin; end Bob Shaw of Ohio State—and Kuzma of the Wolverines.

CHARLES MILL CLUB TO MEET TUESDAY

Secretary Leo Yuncker, in announcing a meeting to be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. at municipal courtroom by the Charles Mill Sportsmen's club, today urged all members to be present to discuss "All-Out" plans for improvements at Charles Mill.

Attendance has been fair at meetings of the club, but for this session there should be 100 per cent attendance, Yuncker declared.

McNEILL MARRIES

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Ensign William Donald (Don) McNeill of Oklahoma City, a former student at Kenyon college, O., and United States National tennis champion in 1940, was married yesterday to Helen Hyde of Buffalo, N. Y., in a civil ceremony. A religious ceremony will be held Sunday.

Browns Take Double Header

Boost Third Place Lead Over Cleveland Indians.

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — This is a golden opportunity for that erstwhile Clevelander, Luke Sewell, to put the Indians in a hole, and his St. Louis Browns have made a good start at it.

In the first of three consecutive twin bills the Browns met the Tribe yesterday with only a half game advantage for third place, a position which supposedly was at stake in the series. But when the fireworks were over, Cleveland was two and one-half games behind, and Luke's boys had won 6 to 3 and 4 to 0.

* * *

Cleveland out-hit St. Louis in the afternoon contest, 10 to 8, but was shut out in the night game by Johnny Niggeling and his knuckle ball, to the tune of four hits. It was the fourth time he had beaten the Indians while collecting 14 victories.

The Browns settled the first game by blowing Chubby Dean off the mound with a four-run blast in the seventh. In the nocturnal tilt they put Mel Harder out of the conflict in the first.

Vernon Stephens, by garnering a home run in each session, was the batting star of the day-night double-header, an arrangement new to the major leagues.

Al Smith and Jim Bagby face Steve Sundra and Fritz Ostermueller in today's double bill, played entirely in daylight.

Two Clevelanders Tie For Second Place

East Liverpool Veteran Coasts To Easy Victory At Westbrook

THERE was no question today about who is the best golfer over 50 years of age in the state of Ohio. It's Joe Wells of East Liverpool who, in his younger days, was Ohio amateur champion several times.

Wells yesterday won the Ohio Senior Golf association championship by seven strokes to add to the state senior championship he won earlier in the season at Columbus Scioto Country club.

Playing the outside nine first at Westbrook yesterday, Wells tacked a 37 on his total of 76 for Thursday, and coasted to the title with a 40 on the inside nine.

Tied for second place at 160 strokes were two golfers in the 55 to 59 age class, Frank Pelton of Cleveland, champion in 1940, and W. B. Foden of Cleveland, Pelton had an 82 yesterday and Foden an 83, giving them a tie for first place in their age group.

Championship of the 60 to 64 age group went to Dr. N. M. West of Lakewood, who added a 79 yesterday to his 82 of Thursday for a total of 161. Runner-up was Dr. H. D. Smith of Cadiz with a 165 total.

George E. Kibler of Columbus took the championship in the 65 to 69 group with a 173 total and J. R. Blakeslee of Cleveland was second with 174.

* * *

C. H. Foster of Cleveland, who won the 65 to 69 title a year ago, moved up to the 70-74 group for another championship with a total of 180. F. Contes of Cleveland was second with 185.

And George M. Gray of Coshocton successfully defended his championship in the class over 75 with a 197 total.

Final scores:

CLASS F (50 to 54)

Joe Wells, East Liverpool	76- 77	—153
N. H. Nelson, Bellefontaine	83- 86	—169
Dr. C. A. Dyer, Columbus	83- 85	—170

Tennis Tourney Reaches Pay-Off

NEW YORK—(AP)—The National Tennis championships approached the pay-off stage at Forest Hills today with the playing of semi-finals matches in both the men's and women's division.

Pancho Segura of Ecuador faced Frankie Parker of Los Angeles in the upper half of men's play, with Ted Schroeder, jr., of Glendale, Calif., and Lieut. Gardnar Mulloy of Jacksonville, Fla., colliding in the opposite bracket.

* * *

In the women's department, favorite Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, met Helen Bernhard of New York City, while Pauline Betz of Los Angeles met Margaret Osborne of San Francisco.

Girl Finalists To Meet Again

Meredith Fisher, Mary Gregoria Play for Title.

For the first time in the history of the Mansfield city tennis tournament, finalists in the girls' division also will battle for the women's title tomorrow afternoon at Maple Lake courts.

Mary Gregoria yesterday defeated Muriel Fisher in the semi-finals of the women's tournament 6-4, 6-2, and tomorrow she will meet Meredith Fisher who defeated her last Sunday for the girls' crown 9-7, 6-4.

In spite of the fact that the girls' tournament was decided in a straight set match, tomorrow's batle for the women's title is considered a toss-up. In their match last Sunday, Mary led Meredith 4-1 and 5-2 in the first set and 4-2 in the second set, but was unable to stem the comeback drive of her opponent.

Championship in the men's doubles will be decided this afternoon at Maple Lake when Enos and Gadfield meet Bourns and Slabaugh.

Semi-finals in men's singles also are being played today, and the tournament is scheduled to wind up with championship play in men's women's and boys' singles tomorrow.

John Schwarz yesterday entered the boys' singles finals with a 7-9, 6-4, 6-4 victory over John Landon. Schwarz and Norman Wilcox, finalist last year, meet in the finals tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. at Maple Lake, and the women's and men's championships follow in that order.

HELPS TRAINER

Dog Helps Master Care For Horses In Stable.

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—Robert J. Rossi, San Francisco horse owner and trainer, is almost as proud of his snow-white Belgian shepherd dog as he is of his winning thoroughbreds.

The dog, "Flash," performs stable duties with almost as much skill as an experienced groom. He can lift a horse's halter off its spike on the wall and carry it to the stall, and even can carry water and feed to the thoroughbreds.

MILD RECOVERY TRENDS FOUND ON STOCK MART

Nation's Individual Income Increased 21 Per Cent During July.

NEW YORK — Mild recovery trends cropped up in today's stock market proceedings although most were selective.

Gainers of fractions included Standard Oil of Cal., American Telephone, Anaconda, Great Northern, Standard Oil (NJ), Union Carbide, Phelphs Dodge and U. S. Gypsum. U. S. Steel was unchanged and International Harvester and General Electric a shade lower.

Wall Streeters who have been wondering when some of the country's mounting individual revenues would begin to seep into securities markets noted the summary of the commerce department which disclosed that income payments to persons in July amounted to $9.-383,000,000. This indicated an annual rate of $114,000,000,000 and a gain of 21 per cent over the 1941 month.

Financial quarters expressed interest in the figures of the National Machine Tool Builders association revealing that this industry probably would turn out some $1.-500,000,000 worth of tools this year, which would be about ten year's normal output.

Libel Action Seeks $2,000,000 From New Jersey Boss.

DEAL, N. J.—(INS)—Mayor Frank Hague today was defendant in a $2,000,000 damage suit after papers were served on him as he reached the thirteenth hole on a local golf course.

The suit, a libel action, was brought by John Warren political foe of Hague. Seeking 500,000 each on four separate charges, Warren alleges that Hague had referred to him as a "tax racketeer" and a "tool of the railway lobby."

TALLY REVEALS JAPS SUFFERING ENORMOUS LOSS

1,500 Planes, 325 Warships Destroyed by American Forces In Pacific.

That the United States is beginning to think more of offensive than defensive warfare was indicated by the recent capture of Japanese bases in the Solomons and by the way American forces have held these objectives against repeated Nipponese counter-attacks.

The minimum of 1,500 Jap combat planes destroyed was based on army and navy communiques and official statements. Conservative war analysts asserted this total actually may be nearer 1,800.

The majority of enemy planes were shot down in aerial combat in the Philippines, China and the southwest Pacific and in aerial attacks on Nipponese aircraft carriers, although some enemy craft were shot down by anti-aircraft batteries afloat and on shore.

Allied Fliers Attack Japanese Cruiser

GEN. MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia—(INS)—Allied medium bombers, operating southwest of New Guinea, attacked a Japanese cruiser with unknown results, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Action in other areas was limited to reconnaissance, the communique added.

The attack may have been in the vicinity of Timor, where the enemy has established bases.

(Berlin reports today said the Japanese have been putting landing parties ashore in the Sunda islands which lie west of Timor.)

Japs Occupy More South Pacific Isles

(By United Press)

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—(U.P.)—Japan, seeking to strengthen its position in the zone northwest of Australia, has occupied several islands in the Lesser Sunda group extending westward from Netherlands-Portugese Timor, it was revealed today.

Japanese reports broadcast by Axis radios said enemy landing parties had been sent from Timor to take over the islands.

Only Lomblen island was mentioned specifically as having been occupied but it was indicated that other islands in the group, such as Flores, Andonara, Solar, Pantar, Alor and possibly Wetar and Kambing farther east had probably been taken or would be.

Previously Japan had occupied the Tanimbar, Kai and Aroe groups between Timor and New Guinea.

News of the occupation explained the persistent reconnaissance of Allied planes over the northwestern zone, reported each day without comment in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communiques.

ALLIES RIP FOE AT STALINGRAD AND IN EGYPT

German Thrust Toward Steel City Halted as Rommel Retreats Again.

tive and we seem to have seized it," a British military commentator said.

The British, however, avoided any suggestion of a full-scale counter-offensive and Gen. Sir Harold Alexander's imperial headquarters likewise declared only that British forces "continued their pressure on the enemy's main concentration."

Dispatches indicated the British were wary of a possible new trap set by Rommel and were guarding against a repetition of the disaster at Tobruk last June, when he sent a small force of tanks forward as bait and lured the British into a nest of hidden anti-tank guns.

Reports said Rommel again attempted the strategy in the present campaign, but this time the Allied tanks ignored the decoy, remaining in the rear while Allied artillery blasted the Nazi tanks.

Front-line advices said United States tank crews, riding "General Grants" into action in the first two days of the battle, showed they could both take it and hand it back. U. S. Army headquarters said a single American tank knocked out six Axis tanks and probably wrecked two others.

The crew of another American tank "bailed out" after their General Grant had been hit by five shells, then returned and drove it off the field.

Meanwhile, Allied planes strafed Axis vehicles rolling east toward the battle scene and smashed at Axis shipping off Tobruk, setting on fire and probably sinking three vessels including a destroyer.

On the Russian front, the Soviet high command reported in its mid-day bulletin that the Red armies had stiffened after three successive days of withdrawals, halting the all-out Nazi assault on Stalingrad.

Dispatches to Red Star said Marshal Fedor von Bock was now "assembling his last forces" in an effort to break through to the Volga.

"Northwest of Stalingrad, Red army men broke into enemy positions and left 270 enemy dead on the battlefield," the Russian command said.

"Southwest of Stalingrad, fierce fighting continues. Red army men repulsed incessant enemy tank and infantry attacks. . . . The Hitlerites suffered heavy losses."

Thus, for the first time in 72 hours, the Red armies were declared to be standing fast on both sides of the imperilled metropolis at a time when the German offensive had reached its peak.

The Nazi high command itself claimed no major gains and acknowledged that the Russians were striking back fiercely.

"North of the city, the enemy carried out large-scale attacks by infantry and tank formations, aiming at relieving the Stalingrad front, but these attacks ended with the loss of 40 Soviet tanks," German headquarters said.

"German infantry divisions successfully stormed several modern forts of the belt of Stalingrad fortifications, which the enemy had stubbornly defended. Enemy counter-attacks were repulsed."

In the Caucasus, the Germans asserted they had captured the town of Tamanskaya on the Taman peninsula, directly east of the Crimean Kerch peninsula, thereby widening the invasion salient on the Caucasian coast.

The Nazi command said German and Rumanian troops were also steadily advancing on the Soviet Black sea naval base at Novorossisk, already abandoned by the Russian fleet.

In the western air war, British and Russian warplanes virtually spread-eagled Europe, attacking the big port of Bremen for the 99th time, bombing the Hungarian capital of Budapest for the first time, and raiding a host of other targets in Nazi-occupied Poland, Austria, East Prussia and German Silesia.

The British air ministry reported that a strong force of RAF bombers—perhaps 200 to 300—dropped "a heavy weight of bombs" and left great fires raging in Bremen in the fourth straight night of assault on Hitler's war nerve-centers.

Eleven RAF bombers failed to return, the air ministry said.

London, long raid-free, had an alarm today. Anti-aircraft guns thundered, but the all-clear signal came a short time later.

ALLIES SPREAD BOMBER CANOPY

Attack Axis From Budapest To Bremen In Heavy Night Assaults.

planes missing in the Bremen raid, said a heavy weight of bombs was dropped and that the crews saw many fires burning.

It was the first attack on battered Bremen since the Royal Air Force attacked it four times in eight days late in June and early in July. Around 1,000 planes engaged in one of these raids; probably upwards of 600 in another. It was the 99th raid on Bremen since the war started.

In grim warning to Germany of things to come, the Allied air forces in their night's activity attacked enemy targets at the corners of a triangle extending 600 miles southeastward from Bremen to Budapest, 500 miles northeastward from Budapest to east Prussia and 500 miles westward from east Prussia to Bremen.

Germany said the Russian raids extended not only to Hungary, Austria, Germany, but to Poland and east Prussia.

It called the attacks on Germany, Poland and east Prussia nuisance raids but said slight damage and some casualties resulted. One plane was shot down, it was said.

Budapest's air raid alarm period lasted from 11:30 p. m. to 1:20 a. m.

At first, it was evident that the Axis did not know where the raiding planes came from—Russia, Britain or the Allied Middle East, but after some hours, Berlin said the planes were Russian.

According to Berlin radio, "bombs dropped from high altitude caused some material damage in Budapest and one church was wrecked."

To attacks Budapest, it was necessary for the Russians to make a round trip of some 2,000 miles, about the distance from the nearest Great Britain bases to the Hungarian capital.

Germany said Allied planes attacked eastern and northern Germany during the night and caused some damage to one north coast town.

G.O.P. NAMES MRS. HUGHES

Wife of Municipal Court New Executive Chairwoman at Committee Session.

Mrs. Ralph Hughes, wife of the municipal court clerk, last night was named Richland county Republican chairwoman by the county G. O. P. executive committee at a meeting at the courthouse.

Mrs. Hughes succeeds Mrs. Carl Spangler who was made second vice chairman of the executive committee. Both Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Spangler were appointed to the executive committee, leaving only two of the committee posts vacant. Mrs. Spangler has been county chairwoman for the past two years.

While the county Republicans have virtually completed their organization, Chairman John C. O'Donnell of the county Democratic executive committee said he has called an organization meeting of the committee for next Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the common pleas court room.

O'Donnell, now acting Richland county prosecutor, will withdraw as chairman. Former Sheriff E. P. Long and C. L. Ford, deputy in the county recorder's office, have been mentioned as possible successors.

The Republican committee, vacancy in Precinct C of the Sixth headed by Ralph Hardy, last night appointed Paul Stahl, 598 South Diamond street, to fill the central committee vacancy in Precinct C of the Sixth ward. The G. O. P. central committee is now complete.

Six committees within the executive committee were set up last night to organize the G. O. P. fall campaign in the county. Chairmen of the committees are: A. F. Porter, policy committee, to outline issues and survey political sentiment; Archie May, entertainment; George Williams, Shelby, finance committee; Earl A. McFarland, house committee; Philip Wolfe, publicity, and Ralph Carroll, Shelby, committee to fill vacancies in central and executive committees and recommend election board members.

federal government made by Home Owners loan and other corporations. These loans total billions."

Sen. Connally (D) Tex., said that advocates of the sales tax have gained ground "because of the opposition to the treasury spending tax plan."

Treasury tax experts, members said, vigorously opposed the sales-withholding tax proposal of Sen. Danaher (R) Conn., he urged that a 10 percent tax on sales, after exemptions, be levied. Stamps would be issued which could be used to pay income taxes and the balance would be cashed after the war.

Despite the apparent gain in sentiment for the sales tax, an important senatorial leader voiced doubt that the senate would approve such a levy. He suggested consideration of a manufacturers excise tax.

The opposition to both the sales and spending tax caused some administration members to predict that efforts will be made to work out a compromise plan involving features of both.

Opposition by Mayor Defeats Investment Board Bond Plan

unanimously to ask for authority to invest idle city monies in city bonds.

Another proposal which had been threatened with the mayor's veto, if passed, was Kelley's ordinance to appropriate $14,600 from the general fund and placing it in escrow to cover the assessed portion of the cost of the complete or partially complete Bartley avenue and Glen Beck lane paving projects.

On motion of George C. Kyle, member-at-large, the issue was referred by President Howard G. Miller to the finance committee.

Several finance matters, none bearing the names of sponsors, brought a determined statement from Chairman Russell Porch, finance committee, that all established rules of procedure should and must be adhered to and that council must not be stampeded into favorable action on unstudied legislation.

Among matters referred to the finance committee were a $300 appropriation for weed-cutting, another for $75 for police department furniture, one adding $1,000 to the police motor maintenance fund, a measure asking $250 "for police expenditures in the nature of new motor equipment" and a proposal to transfer $500 for the extension of the police and fire signal system on Park avenue east in the vicinity of Franklin avenue and Diamond street.

Only proposal winning through to adoption was one presented by Engineer W. C. Statler asking $700 additional to meet increased labor costs in the East Raleigh avenue paving job. Property owners have consented to the increased assessments created under the state's prevailing wage schedule.

Mayor Locke has indicated he will veto the signal system measure if the transfer is not made from parking meter funds inasmuch as a former council used $5,000 of that money for repair of signal lines and apparatus although the fund is ear-marked for traffic purposes only. Solicitor Wagner ruled yesterday that such use of meter money is illegal.

Kyle's proposal to repeal a 1937 ordinance requiring taxicabs to install and maintain speed governors limiting maximum speed to 45 miles an hour lost on a motion to pass it under a suspension of the rules.

Members Fred Miller, sr., and Michael Mihalick were absent.

TOOTS AND CASPER

TOOTS, I'M GONNA STROLL DOWN THE AVENUE AND LET THE FOLKS SEE A GLAMOUR BOY IN PERSON!
HELLO, GUS! HELLO JERRY!
FOOEY WITH HIM!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
I'M OFFA CASPER FOR LIFE!
ME, TOO!
JIMMY MURPHY
IS THERE SUMPN' THE MATTER WITH ME? MY FRIENDS LOOK AT ME AS IF I WERE A GHOST!
TOOTS, IS THERE ANYTHING WRONG WITH ME? EVERYBODY SEEMS TO BE SORE AT ME!
YOU LOOK GOOD TO ME, HONEY!
HI THERE, AL SKIDDER!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
HELLO, COLONEL HOOFER--HELLO, SOPHIE!
9-1
MY FRIENDS ARE AVOIDING ME, BUT WHAT'S WRONG? YOU'D THINK I HAVE THE MUMPS OR MEASLES OR SUMPN' THE WAY THEY STAY AWAY FROM ME.
JIMMY MURPHY
WHAT ARE MY FRIENDS AVOIDING ME FOR, TOOTS? I'D LIKE TO GET TO THE BOTTOM OF THIS!
HEY, COLONEL HOOFER! WAIT A MINUTE!
GET AWAY FROM ME, CASPER!
9-2
WHAT ARE YOU AVOIDING ME FOR?
BECAUSE I THOUGHT I WAS YOUR PAL AND YOU'VE HURT MY FEELINGS!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
WHAT ARE YOU DRIVING AT, ANYWAY?
YOU CAN'T TREAT ME LIKE A COUNTRY COUSIN AND GET AWAY WITH IT!
JIMMY MURPHY
WHAT DO YOU WANT TO TELL ME, COLONEL HOOFER?
YOU SNUBBED ME BY NOT INVITING ME TO YOUR BIG PARTY, CASPER--THAT'S WHY I'M SORE AT YOU!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
WHAT PARTY??
YOU GAVE A SWELL DINNER FOR 33 PEOPLE AND NEVER INVITED A SINGLE ONE OF YOUR INTIMATE FRIENDS!
I DIDN'T GIVE ANY PARTY--- WHO TOLD YOU THAT?
CALEB McJITTERS TOLD ME AND I TOLD THE REST OF THE CROWD!
SO THAT'S WHY ALL MY FRIENDS ARE SORE--I'LL FIX HIM FOR THAT!
PARDON ME FOR THINKING THE WORST, CASPER, BUT YOU ARE A TRICKY RASCAL!
9-3
JIMMY MURPHY
McJITTERS, WHY DID YOU TELL COL. HOOFER I GAVE A PARTY FOR 33 PEOPLE?
DON'T GET SORE, CASPER! IT WAS ALL A MISTAKE ON MY PART!
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
HE TOLD ALL MY OTHER FRIENDS AND THEY'RE ALL SORE AT ME, BECAUSE THEY WEREN'T INVITED---
I DIDN'T GIVE ANY PARTY AT ALL! WHERE'D YOU GET THAT STUFF?
WHO TOLD YOU I GAVE A PARTY FOR 33 PEOPLE?
JIMMY MURPHY
I HEARD OVER THE RADIO THAT BOOTS AND CASPER GAVE THE PARTY AND I THOUGHT THEY MEANT YOU UNTIL I FOUND OUT OTHERWISE!
9-4
McJITTERS, YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE TOLD THAT I GAVE A SWELL PARTY FOR 33 PEOPLE, WHEN I DIDN'T!
I'M SORRY, CASPER, I HAD YOU MIXED UP WITH SOMEBODY ELSE!
YOU GOT ALL MY FRIENDS SORE AT ME, BECAUSE THEY THOUGHT I DIDN'T INVITE THEM!!
9-5
I'M VERY SORRY YOU'RE MAD AT ME, CASPER, BECAUSE YOU'RE ONE OF THE CITY'S MOST ILLUSTRIOUS CITIZENS AND WHO KNOWS BUT WHAT SOMEDAY YOU MAY BE OUR MAYOR, OR EVEN OCCUPY THE GOVERNOR'S CHAIR.....
Copr. 1942, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved
GIVING A PARTY FOR 33 PEOPLE IS SOMETHING TO BE PROUD OF!
YOU'RE A GOOD GUY, AND WE'LL FORGET IT! SAY, IF I EVER GO IN FOR POLITICS, DON'T FORGET TO SUPPORT ME.
IF AT FIRST YOU DON'T SUCCEED WITH CASPER TRY FLATTERY.

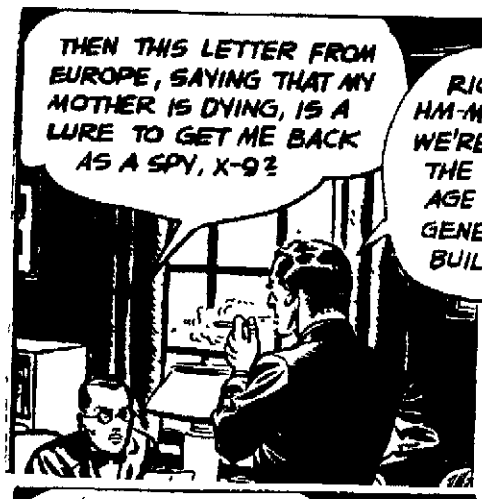
SECRET AGENT X-9



THEN THIS LETTER FROM EUROPE, SAYING THAT MY MOTHER IS DYING, IS A LURE TO GET ME BACK AS A SPY, X-9?
RIGHT! HM-M... HANS, WE'RE ABOUT THE SAME AGE AND GENERAL BUILD...

THERE, THAT'S BETTER... I'M SMUDGING A MUSTACHE ON, JUST FOR EFFECT.. I'LL SPROUT A REAL ONE IN A WEEK OR SO!
X-9, IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO GO OVER IN MY PLACE, YOU ARE TAKING YOUR LIFE IN YOUR HANDS!

IN HANS SAXE'S FORMER HOMELAND
ELSA, MY FATHER WILL GIVE US A BIG WEDDING WHEN HANS ARRIVES.
BUT, HULDA.. MY BROTHER MAY HAVE MARRIED SINCE WE HEARD FROM HIM, THREE YEARS AGO!

THE FOREIGN BUREAU HAS FORCED ME TO WRITE A LETTER TO MY BROTHER HANS, IN AMERICA, TO LURE HIM BACK... HE WILL BE USED AS AN ANTI-DEMOCRATIC SPY!

I HAVE TRIED TO WARN HIM NOT TO COME. IF MY WARNING FAILS, WE MUST STOP HIM WHEN HIS PLANE REACHES NEUTRAL PORTUGAL... BY FORCE, IF NECESSARY!
WE'LL MAKE CONTACT WITH THE ENGLISH AT ONCE!

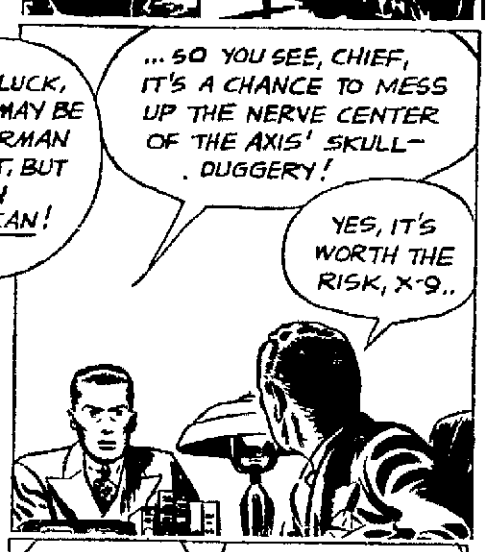
MEANWHILE...
X-9, YOU ARE COUNTERING THE AXIS PLAN TO FORCE ME TO RETURN — BY GOING, YOURSELF!
YOU HAVEN'T BEEN BACK IN FIFTEEN YEARS. THEY WON'T KNOW THE DIFFERENCE! IT'S YOUR MOTHER AND SISTER I'M WORRIED ABOUT.

AT AN AIRFIELD IN LISBON, PORTUGAL.
GREETINGS, COLONEL! WE HAVE WORD FROM THE UNDERGROUND "FREEDOM" GROUP IN GERMANY THAT A NATURALIZED AMERICAN CITIZEN, NAMED HANS SAXE, IS BEING CALLED BACK BY THE AXIS FOR ESPIONAGE DUTY!
INTERESTING!

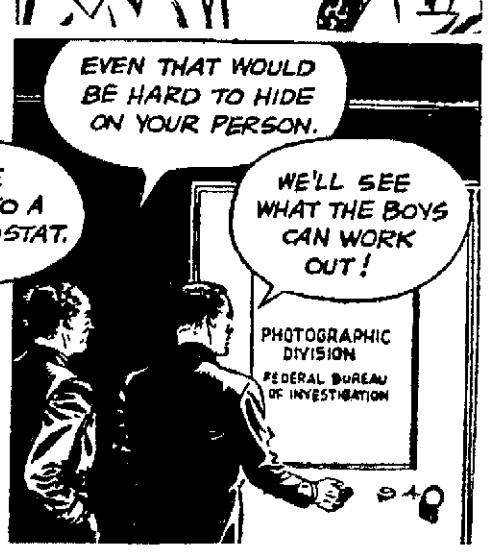
WHILE IN AMERICA
IF I'M TO IMPERSONATE YOU OVER THERE, HANS, WE'D BETTER NOT OVERLOOK ANY DETAILS! I'LL HAVE THE BIRTHMARK TATTOOED ON LATER!
I USED TO PLAY A GUITAR...

WHEN DID YOU SEE HER LAST?
THREE YEARS AGO! SHE WORKED ON A SHIP... WE WERE TO BE MARRIED, BUT THE WAR KEPT HER OVER THERE... SEE, HERE IS THE RING!

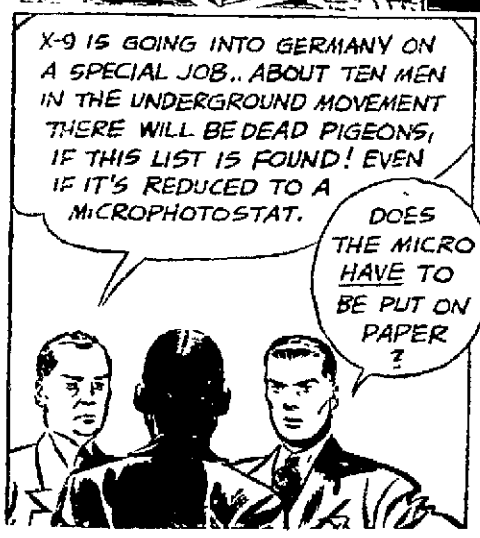
OKAY, SAXE... SIT TIGHT. THE F.B.I. WILL ARRANGE FOR YOUR CHANGE OF NAME AND A DIFFERENT DEFENSE JOB; WHILE I IMPERSONATE YOU IN EUROPE!
GOOD LUCK, X-9! I MAY BE OF GERMAN DESCENT, BUT I'M AN AMERICAN!



HERE'S A LIST OF OUR UNDERGROUND CONTACTS OVER THERE... BUT IT'S WORTH YOUR LIFE, IF THEY FIND IT ON YOU!
IT CAN BE REDUCED TO A MICROPHOTOSTAT.



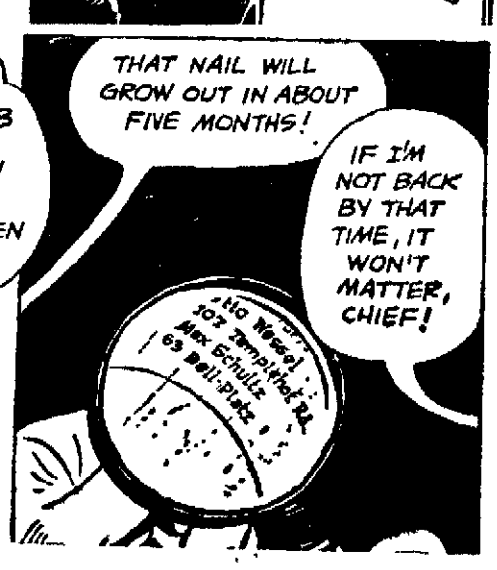
EVEN THAT WOULD BE HARD TO HIDE ON YOUR PERSON.
WE'LL SEE WHAT THE BOYS CAN WORK OUT!
PHOTOGRAPHIC DIVISION
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION



X-9 IS GOING INTO GERMANY ON A SPECIAL JOB.. ABOUT TEN MEN IN THE UNDERGROUND MOVEMENT THERE WILL BE DEAD PIGEONS, IF THIS LIST IS FOUND! EVEN IF IT'S REDUCED TO A MICROPHOTOSTAT.
DOES THE MICRO HAVE TO BE PUT ON PAPER?

HOW ABOUT SENSITIZING MY THUMB NAIL AND PRINTING THE MICRO DIRECTLY ON IT?
YES! WE CAN STEP THE SHEET DOWN TO THE SIZE OF A PIN-HEAD. YOU CAN READ IT WITH A STRONG GLASS! STEP OVER.

WE'LL COAT THE NAIL WITH A HARD, TRANSPARENT LACQUER TO KEEP IT FROM PEELING OFF!
KEEP WIGGLING YOUR THUMB IN THAT HYPO, X-9! IT NEEDS ANOTHER TEN MINUTES!



THAT NAIL WILL GROW OUT IN ABOUT FIVE MONTHS!
IF I'M NOT BACK BY THAT TIME, IT WON'T MATTER, CHIEF!

GOOD MORNIN', MRS. RANCE — HOW'S THIS FOR A SWELL DAY! THE SUN IS SHININ' AN'—
FOR VICTORY BUY UNITED STATES WAR BONDS AND STAMPS
YES, DEAR — I BELIEVE IT IS A NICE DAY — BUT I DON'T SEEM TO HAVE ANY INTEREST IN THE WEATHER SINCE MY BABY WENT AWAY—
EVERY DAY SEEMS LIKE THE DAY BEFORE — ALL DULL, MONOTONOUS AND JOYLESS — DAYS COME AND GO — WHILE I WAIT FOR THE DAY MY BABY WILL COME BACK TO ME
DARRELL McCLURE
GEE, ZERO — EVERY TIME POOR MRS. RANCE TALKS TO ME ABOUT HER LOST BABY, I START CRYIN' INSIDE OF ME
I'M GLAD TO SEE YOU LOOKING SO HAPPY, CHILD — I WAS AFRAID THIS GLOOMY, OLD HOUSE WOULD SMOTHER YOUR JOY LIKE A WET BLANKET
IT'S KINDA LONESOME LIKE — 'SPECIALLY AT NIGHT — BUT I FEEL SORTA SORRY FOR THE HOUSE — LIKE I WOULD BE FOR SOMEONE WHO WAS SICK OR SOMETHIN'—
I'LL BETCHA WHEN THIS HOUSE WAS NEW IT LOOKED BEAUTIFUL — NOT MOURNFUL AN' SAD THE WAY IT DOES NOW
WOULDN'T IT BE SWELL, IF MRS. RANCE'S LOST BABY WOULD COME BACK! — MAYBE IT WILL! THEN I GUESS, INSTEAD OF CALLING IT THE HAUNTED MANSION, FOLKS WOULD CALL IT THE HAPPY MANSION
DARRELL McCLURE
GEE, MISS DEBBY — I NEVER SAW SO MANY SWELL-LOOKIN' BIRDS BEFORE — BUT THEY'RE AWFUL QUIET — I ALWAYS THOUGHT BIRDS WERE SINGIN' ALL THE TIME
MRS. RANCE DOESN'T LIKE SINGING BIRDS — ANY KIND OF NOISE MAKES HER NERVOUS
I DIDN'T KNOW THAT — I'M NOT VERY QUIET — I'M ALWAYS TALKIN' AN' LAFFIN' — I GUESS I GOTTA BE CAREFUL OR I'LL MAKE MRS RANCE NERVOUS, TOO
DARRELL McCLURE
BLESS YOUR HEART, CHILD — YOU'RE THE FIRST PERSON IN YEARS THAT MRS. RANCE LIKES TO TALK TO — FOR PITY SAKE, DON'T YOU START TRYING TO CHANGE IN ANY WAY!!
GEE, ZERO, BUT GARDENS ARE SWELL YOU GROW TAME FLOWERS IN 'EM — AND THE PRETTY WILD FLOWERS MOVE IN, 'CAUSE THEY LIKE GARDENS TOO
LISTEN! THERE GOES CHIRPEE — SINGIN' LOUD AGAIN
PLEASE, CHIRPEE — I KNOW YOU'RE GLAD, 'CAUSE YOU'RE NOT SICK ANY MORE AN' THAT'S WHY YOU'RE SINGIN' SO LOUD —
— BUT, PLEASE, CHIRPEE, DO ME A FAVOR —
DARRELL McCLURE
WHEN MRS. RANCE HEARS BIRDS SINGIN', IT MAKES HER NERVOUS — THAT'S 'CAUSE SHE'S SICK — SO PLEASE DON'T SING LOUD ANY-MORE, CHIRPEE

CHIRPEE? WHO IS CHIRPEE ??
CHIRPEE IS MY BIRD — LAST WEEK I FOUND HIM LYING ON THE GROUND — HE WAS AWFUL SICK — SO —
BLESS YOUR KIND LITTLE HEART — SO THIS IS CHIRPEE — DON'T WORRY, MRS. RANCE WON'T HEAR HIM — HER ROOM IS IN THE FRONT OF THE HOUSE
9-4
AND I'M SURE IF SHE DID HEAR HIM, HIS MERRY LITTLE SONG WOULD NOT MAKE HER NERVOUS — WHEN I TELL HER HOW YOU SAVED THE LITTLE SONGSTER'S LIFE, IT WILL MAKE HER HAPPY
??
